READY TO FACE HIS EMPEROR

Stoessel Says He Could Not Throw Away His Soldiers' Lives.

WERE AT LAST GASP

Rations of Horse Meat Cooked in Machine Oil Were Being Served at Port Arthur.

GENERAL ARRIVES AT ADEN

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1905, by the New York Times.)

ADEN, Feb. 10.—The French steamship Australian arrived here at 8 o'clock this evening, carrying among her other passengers Gen. Stoessel, seven other generals, two admirals, 136 other officers and 143 artillery soldiers, formerly of the Port Arthur garrison. Mme. Stoessel brings with her six orphans whom she has adopted, sons of officers who fell at Port Arthur.

Communication between the Australian and the shore is not allowed on account of a recrudenccnce of the plague here, where there are 50 deaths a day. We were able to embark, thanks to the isolation of a rock in front of Aden, on which is a plague hospital.

We were graciously received by Gen. Stoessel and Gen. Reiss, his chief of staff, who acted as interpreter. They said it was a sad thing to return vanquished, but they were conscious of having done their entire duty in holding the fortress as long as they did. They could not have held Port Arthur at the most for four days longer. The munitions and food supplies had been almost completely exhausted. There remained only 6,000 loaded shells, and 2,000,000 cartridges, which were powerless against the 11-inch guns which rained their fire upon the Russian front, 25 kilometers long.

Soldiers Ate Horse Meat.

In the garrison, said Gen. Stoessel, there were 30,000 men, of whom 18,000 were in hospital and 4,000 were non-combatants. Of the remaining 8,000, 3,000 were afflicted with scurvy and were obliged to fight seated or lying down in the trenches.

"For several months," said Gen. Stoessel, "the troops received 200 grammes of horse meat apiece each week. All the food was prepared with machine oil. After September, the only ships which succeeded in running the blockade were the steamer King Arthur, commanded by a French captain, and three junks. All brought flour.

"The last news we received from the outside world was on September 20, when a telegram from Gen. Kuropatkin said he would come to relieve us in three months.

"The three months having passed, and no news of the fleet under Vice Admiral Rojestvensky having been received, the situation became desperate. The garrison being exhausted, and the fleet, whose preservation had been the principal reason for resistance, having been destroyed after the capture of High mountain, '203-Meter hill,' I considered that any further prolongation of the struggle would inevitably lead to frightful carnage." Gen. Stoessel added that he decided on the capitulation on his own authority and without consulting any one.

"The desperate state of the garrison, and the physical and technical exhaustion of the fleet were followed by the capture of High mountain, 203-Meter hill, which resulted in the enemy taking away our principal means of resistance."

Could Not Bear Carnage.

"The czar and my peers will judge if I should have prolonged the siege, have made an heroic but criminal sortie, or whether I was right to prefer a less great name in military annals to having 30,000 lives on my conscience."

A number of other officers whom I interviewed did not share this moral satisfaction of Gen. Stoessel. They expressed violent resentment toward Admiral Prince Ukhtomsky for his disastrous handling of the fleet; against several incapable generals, and, above all, against ex-Viceroy Alexieff. The last named, they declared, had foreseen nothing and prepared nothing. It was necessary to reconstruct the greater part of the fortifications under deplorable conditions and under the fire of the enemy.

The officers declared Gen. Stoessel was a brave man, but not a genius. Gen. Kondratenko, they said, was the real soul of the defense, and was adored by his men. When he died, Port Arthur died with him. Smyrnoff and several other generals, in spite of the czar's permission, preferred captivity to a shameful return.

Officers Are Melancholy.

In spite of the sympathy of the passengers and the warm ovations they received at Saigon, Indo-China, the Russian officers on the Australian are all melancholy. When asked if they were glad to return to their fatherland, they replied, "No," and added, sadly, that if Gen. Kondratenko had been in command at Port Arthur they would not have been here.

The Russians will leave the Australian at Port Said. One officer who is ill disembarked here.

SENATOR KNOX IMPROVING.

Is Steadily Recovering from the Grip and Expects to Be About Next Week.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—(Special.)—It was stated tonight at the home of Senator Knox on K street that the senator, though still confined to his room with grip, is improving steadily and expects to be out and go to the capitol next week. There are no complications whatever in his case and his physician is very well satisfied with the progress he is making.

The senator was disappointed at being unable to keep his appointment to attend the Bar association banquet in Pittsburgh, but his physicians insist that he must keep indoors until there is no danger whatever of a relapse.

M. WITTE.
President of the Czar's Imperial Council.

M. WITTE'S RESIDENCE SEARCHED BY POLICE

By Order of Russia's New Minister of Interior, President's House is Ransacked.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Feb. 11.—The correspondent at St. ePtersburg of the Daily Mail sends to that paper the extraordinary report that the first act of the new minister of the interior, M. Bouligan, on arriving in St. Petersburg Friday, was to have the residence of M. Witte, president of the council of the empire, searched by the police, who removed a mass of documents for examination.

M. Witte was at home at the time and the police made a systematic and thorough examination of all the private papers in the house. The correspodent adds that when Minister von Plehve was assassinated he was carrying just such a perquisition for M. Witte's papers.

It looks, therefore, the correspondent says, as though the new interior administration is beginning just where Von Plehve left off.

STILL OFF MADAGASCAR.

Admiral Rojestvensky Is Having Trouble With Colliers That Are With Russian Fleet.

PORT LOUIS, MARUITUS, Feb. 10.—Arrivals from Nossi Be off the coast of Madagascar, report that the Russian second Pacific squadron was still there February 2. A dispute had arisen between Vice Admiral Rojestvensky and the German companies which are coaling the fleet. The admiral wishes the colliers to follow the fleet, but they refused on account of the too close proximity of the Japanese squadron.

The Russian ships will not leave Nossi Be before February 28. They are getting little news from St. Petersburg, and the crews are dispirited owing to the fall of Port Arthur.

AS CHINA'S ADVISOR.

Japan Intends, After the War, to Establish Herself in Capital of the Celestials.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Tokyo claims the best authority for the statement that Japan intends, after the war, to establish herself in Pekin as China's principal advisor.

The correspondent adds that the warship which Japan is reported to have purchased is said to be the Chilean battleship Capital Prat. The negotiations, it is added, were conducted through an American firm. Orders for four large battleships have been placed in England, and also contracts for guns to the value of $2,500,000.

STATEHOOD IS PUT TO SLEEP

House Will Not Accept Senate Amendments to the Measure.

"UNCLE JOE" DID IT

The Speaker Tells Republican Caucus None But Original Bill Will Pass.

PLAIN LANGUAGE IN MEETING

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 10.

"If the house is to accept every amendment that the senate sees fit to make to house measures, then there is no longer any house. The senate is the whole shootin' match."

In these words Speaker Cannon this afternoon expressed his opinion of the upper branch of congress at the conference of the Republican members of the house to decide upon a course relative to the statehood bill. It was made plain to all that the meeting was not a caucus; it did not bind anyone attending it to vote for any action that might be decided upon. The question to be determined was whether the house was to accept the amendments of the snate by which the bill as it passed the house last session was sorely mutilated, and Arizona was shut out entirely from statehood.

Representative Hepburn presided and Representative Dalzell presented a resolution reciting the action of the Republican caucus last April, when the bill as it passed the house was indorsed. The resolution called upon the Republicans to carry out the policy then outlined by insisting upon the admission of all four territories to joint statehood.

Mr. Sibley of Pennsylvania offered as a substitute a resolution providing that the house non-concur in the senate amendments and ask for a conference. Mr. Tawney of Minnesota moved to amend Mr. Sibley's resolution in such a way as to give it the effect of Mr. Dalzell's resolution.

Col. Hepburn left the chair and made a speech in favor of following the action decided upon by the caucus. He scored the members who would depart from this course and dressed them down very effectively.

After several other members had aired their views, Speaker Cannon laid down the law to "the boys" so plainly that none was left in doubt as to the exact situation. Mr. Cannon made it plain that the house would not concur in the senate amendments. He let it be known that until he was assured that there would be votes enough to adopt a rule to send the bill to conference it would not be reported out of the committee on territories, where it is now resting. "Uncle Joe" knows that if the bill is now reported to the house and someone moves to concur in the senate amendments, there will be enough Democratic and Republican votes together to adopt the motion, and then it will all be over and the house again will have bent the suppliant knee to the arrogant senate. Hence his remark, quoted at the beginning of this article. When someone asked the speaker if he would prefer to let the bill die rather than concur in the amendments, he said:

"Yes, I would much rather let it die until the next congress."

Representative Tawney then introduced a resolution, which Speaker Cannon had prepared, and which provided that the bill be reported out of committee under a rule adopted by the house which should provide that it be immediately sent to conference, where the house conferees should insist upon the Republican policy as outlined in the previous caucus. This means that the conferees shall insist on the senate withdrawing its amendments and restoring the bill to the form in which it passed the house. It also leaves no opportunity for a motion to concur. This resolution was adopted by a vote of 112 to 33, several of the Pennsylvania members voting against it.

MORE BLOOD SHED IN POLISH STRIKE

Many Persons Are Killed and Wounded in Conflicts at Different Places.

RAILROAD MEN MAY GO OUT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LODZ, Feb. 10.—It is reported that a general railroad strike will commence February 14 throughout Poland.

A conflict occurred today at Louis Geyer's factory, where troops were lined up to prevent the strikers from entering to demand pay. It is said 20 persons were killed and 50 wounded. The strikers generally are enraged at the refusal of other manufacturers to give them their pay and several other encounters between mobs and troops are reported from different directions. A number of people are said to have been wounded. The greatest alarm prevails here. The shops were closed early this afternoon and the windows were boarded up.

BERLIN, Feb. 10.—According to press dispatches from Kattowitz, Russian Poland, a collision occurred between 15,000 strikers and the military at the Russian station of Skarzysko, in which 24 strikers were killed and 40 wounded. The military, it is also reported, fired on strikers at Ostrowicz, but the casualties are not known.

The Lokal Anzeiger's Warsaw dispatch gives the number of strikers killed at Lodz on Thursday as 19 and the wounded 112. These figures apply to only part of the disturbances. The sharpest fight took place before the factory of the Schiedler Company, the number of strikers killed or wounded there not being reported. Two soldiers and one detective were killed. A strike is expected to break out on the Warsaw-Vienna railway.

A dispatch from Sosnovice says: "A procession of strikers from Zagorge going to Sielce, where a demonstration had been planned, was dispersed by the military, who freely used their swords and whips. Troops continue to arrive in large numbers. The strikers have called a great meeting for Sunday, which it is feared will cause trouble.

SOSNOVICE, Feb. 10.—On Thursday a mob invaded the yard of the Katherinen works, demanding that the workmen in charge of the electrical machinery there join in the strike. A company of soldiers intervened and, it is said, a rioter menaced an officer with a knife, whereupon he gave the order to fire, with the result that 28 persons, including a high school pupil who happened to be passing, fell dead and 36 were seriously wounded. These latter were removed to a hospital where five of them have since died. A number of others were slightly wounded. Many were wounded in the back and evidently they were trying to escape. A large quantity of dynamite has been stolen from the explosive stores of the Casimir mines, it is supposed by strikers.

Wild Rumor of an Egg-Gobbel in Chicago—Emphatically Denied by Packers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—It is estimated there are 15,000,000 eggs in cold storage in Chicago, notwithstanding a famine in the product exists and householders are paying 28 cents a dozen. The big meat packers are said to have a corner on the market.

Representatives of the packers tonight denied that they had cornered the egg market. Dealers in eggs upheld the packers in their statements, declaring that there are not 6,000 cases of eggs in the city and that no corner existed.

HOCH NOW ADMITS THIRTEEN WIVES

Proposed to Sister of One While Latter Was Lying Dead and She Accepted Him.

IS EXAMINED AT INQUEST

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Confronted by living witnesses of his duplicity, at the coroner's investigation today into the death of Mrs. Walcker-Hoch, his last victim, Johann Hoch, the much-married man, according to the police, has admitted his marriage to 13 women in the last 10 years. Eight of these women, who at one time bore the name of the alleged bigamist, are dead, but Hoch declares they died natural deaths.

The principal witness at today's examination was Mrs. Fischer-Hoch, a sister of the woman over whom the inquest was being held. Hoch married the witness a few days after the death of Mrs. Walcker-Hoch.

"The day before my sister Marie died, she accused me of trying to win the love of her husband," said the witness. "She wept and declared she would soon be dead, and that I could have him. I replied I did not want him; that I could get a man of my own.

"I lay awake until 3 o'clock crying that night, and heard my sister and Hoch exchanging angry words upstairs. In the morning Hoch came down and said his wife was worse, and that he was going for a doctor. When he returned we went up to my sister's bedroom and found her dead.

"At 3 o'clock in the afternoon Hoch said: 'Now, my dear, I am alone in the world. You stick to me and I will make you happy. Your sister told me you were a good business woman, and when things get straightened out I will open a hotel and we will work together hand in hand. It would be a pleasure to me to be a father to your 10 children. I want a wife who has had a bad husband so she will appreciate a good one. My wife is dead. The dead belong to the dead and the living to the living.

" 'If Marie had not insulted you I would have mourned six weeks for her, but under the circumstances we must marry right away. You stick by me, and I will send for your children in Germany and we will all live together.'

"I told him I was surprised that he wanted to be a father to so many children. He appeared hurt to think that I doubted his willingness."

During the investigation Jacob J. Hess of Cincinnati identified Hoch as the man he had known in that place in 1898, who married 10 German widows, under the name of Schmitt.

Proverbs of Johann Hoch

Since his incarceration, Hoch, the much married man, has given utterance to the following:

A man should never marry a woman unless there is a money consideration to compensate him for his disappointments.

Marriage is a lottery, it is true, but it's worse than that, it's h——

Before marriage a man swears he will love, but after marriage he loves to swear.

Before marriage every man has a theory about how to manage a wife, but after marriage it's a condition and not a theory that confronts him.

Man's troubles with women began in the Garden of Eden, and of late I have had occasion to wonder where it will ever end.

It's no disgrace for a man to make a mistake in marrying; nearly every man who marries does that.

What's the use in investing in marriage bonds if they are not made to pay cash dividends?

SLIDE TO DEATH ON A BOBSLED

Four Coasters Killed and Four Receive Injuries at New Brighton.

ONE HURT FATALLY

Merrymakers Dash Into Fort Wayne Train, Unable to Heed Warning.

EIGHT HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW BRIGHTON, Feb. 10.—Three boys and one man were killed, one boy is dying and three other boys were slightly injured as the result of a bobsled, carrying 16 boys, dashing into a train at 8:10 o'clock tonight. All the others on the sled escaped with hardly a scratch.

THE DEAD:

REED H. M'DANEL, aged 24, of 516 Fifth avenue; telephone lineman; head cut open and body cut into pieces; leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis McDanel, and two sisters.

CHARLES FARROW, aged 11, of 523 Fifth avenue; skull crushed, chest crushed and leg cut off.

MERL SAVIERS, aged 15, of Oak Hill; skull crushed, lived 10 minutes.

MERVIN DUEY, aged 13, chest and skull crushed; taken to home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Duey, of 712 Tenth avenue, where he died.

THE DYING:

ROBERT FARROW, aged 7, of 513 Fifth avenue; skull fractured, chest crushed, foot taken off; carried to the home of his father, Robert Farrow.

Slightly injured: John Farrow, head and leg cut; Roy Tea, hand cut; Frank Farrow, leg hurt.

Those who escaped are: Earl Emabaugh, Elmer Holden, Harry Irwin, John Haley, William Walsh, Andrew McKnight, John Mellon and Charles Couch.

The accident occurred at Sixth street and Fifth avenue, on which the double track of the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago railroad passes through the town. The Sixth street hill is covered with ice and was thronged with coasters. Boys to watch for approaching trains were stationed at the railroad crossing and saw the train coming. They cried to the occupants of the bobsled to stop, but it was too late for them to do so at the time they heard them. The train struck was the Beaver Falls accommodation, due at Kenwood station one block above at 8:12. The sled struck the rear steps of the second coach, breaking them. Engineer W. H. Doty saw the sled as his train reached the crossing, but it was too late to stop. He brought the train to a standstill one carlength beyond and the train crew rushed back and were the first to care for the dead and dying.

Made Frantic Efforts to Escape.

Reed McDanel was guiding the sled, which came down the hill at a terrific speed and shot over the one square of level street between the hill and railroad tracks in a few seconds. The sled was almost at the crossing when the coasters saw their danger. The older boys made frantic efforts to escape by trying to capsize the sled, which they succeeded in doing just as the front struck the train. McDanel was hurled head foremost between the cars and the wheels passed over his limbs and body. The rear of the sled, in the efforts of the boys to upset it, swung around broadside and struck the iron support of the safety gate with great force. This hurled several of the boys under the wheels. Many of the others on the sled the instant they realized their danger threw themselves off the sled, some of them grasping the smaller boys and pulling them off as they themselves rolled to safety. The escape of John Farrow was exceedingly close. He was hurled under the train and was lying in the middle of the tracks. William Walsh had grasped Frank Farrow by the waist, throwing him off the sled.

Saved Life of Nephew.

As Frank rolled toward the track he saw a boy lying between the rails and jerked him to safety, just as the rear truck was about to strike him. Then he discovered he had saved his nephew. The body of Charles Farrow was carried 100 feet and dropped almost at the gate of his father's home. The bodies of the dead and dying were carried by the trainmen and laid on the porch of the residence of Mrs. Emelia Matheney at the corner near the scene of the accident. Mrs. Matheney brought quilts to place over the bodies. Duey and Saviers, who were still living, were carried to an upstairs room and laid side by side on a bed. A moment later Saviers died.

Miss Bessie Duey came in a few moments and identified her brother. The boy was taken home, where he died. J. A. Duey, his father, is one of the most prominent merchants of New Brighton. He is in Arizona for his health. Miss Helen Duey, the boy's sister, is a senior in Wilson college at Chambersburg. Robert Farrow was carried to the home of his father. His mother is dead. The remains of the dead boys were taken to N. A. Couch's morgue.

Miss Gertrude Matheney had been riding on the sled with the boys, going into the house just before the fatal trip. She was standing at a window and saw the accident.

Coal Cars Are Ditched.

JOHNSTOWN, Feb. 10.—At Milford station on the Somerset & Cambria branch of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, the rear car of a coal train left the rails this morning, tumbling over an embankment and carrying with it 29 loaded cars, which are piled in a heap beside the track. No one was hurt and the tracks were cleared in about three hours.

New Tube Mills Start.

LORAIN, O., Feb. 10.—(Special.)—The first skelp was rolling today in Lorain's new $10,000,000 tube mills. The mammoth plant, controlled by the United States Steel Corporation, is two and a half miles in length and will employ 7,000 men.

M'LEAN ENTHUSES WARDS ON HILL

SHERIFF WARNS WALLACE

Controller Larkin's prolific and unkept promises of reform, the broken pledge of the Citizens party to abolish the office of delinquent tax collector, and the successful efforts of the present city administration in preventing a reduction of taxation and of the excessive water rates, were the topics ably handled last night by Andrew C. McLean, the Republican candidate for city controller, at a gathering of fully 500 voters in the Franklin school, Eighth ward.

The Franklin school is almost on the ward lines of the Seventh and Eighth wards and the audience was composed of voters from both wards. Mr. McLean received a demonstrative greeting. His statement that he would not make promises he could not keep but that he would do everything in the power of the city controller to remedy the evils that exist at city hall, was received with genuine enthusiasm. James M. West presided. The principal points of Mr. McLean's address were as follows:

Pledges That Were Broken.

In every branch of the city government, as now administered by the Citizens-Democratic officials, there are extravagance, mismanagement and a reckless disregard for the rights and interests of the people. To the redemption of this great city from these evils the Republican party is committed.

The present city controller, and his Citizens-Democratic associates, instead of making any effort toward the reduction of water rates are defending the present exorbitant water rents, and under their advice and orders, the majority in common council, which is absolutely under their control, this week voted down and defeated the proposition made by Republican councilmen to make a 25 per cent reduction in the water rates as a start toward the furnishing of water to consumers at the actual lowest cost to the city of the maintenance of the water service.

The Citizens-Democratic administration in violation of its pledges has failed to abolish the office of collector of delinquent taxes. This will be one of the earliest reforms instituted by the Republicans when they obtain full power in Pittsburgh, and the city controller can do, and when I am elected, will do, his share toward co-operating to put into effect this pledge in the Republican platform, adopted January 17, 1905.

Larkin Dodges Questions.

Since Mr. Larkin was elected city controller the city expenses have increased more than $3,000,000 over what they were in 1901. Pledged as he was to reduce the tax rate to 10 mills on a $300,000,000 taxable property valuation, and to cut down city expenditures, Mr. Larkin is now making a pitiable exhibition in attempting to dodge the straight and square questions propounded to him inquiring why he made these promises and why he broke them.

Instead of answering these questions, or furnishing any adequate defense of the extravagant and profligate city administration, of which he is a part, my opponent is endeavoring to divert the attention of the people from the real issue of this campaign, namely, his record and that of his associates in office.

Addresses were also made by John M. Moreland, Walter Billows and others.

Obeying the orders of Police Superintendent Wallace to tear down the lithographs of the Republican candidate for city controller and notices of Republican meetings, the employes of the police bureau have become overzealous and have torn down the official election placards of the sheriff, posted by his deputies. Sheriff Dickson yesterday notified Supt. Wallace personally that if any more election notices were torn down that arrests would follow, and Wallace promised to order his men to leave the notices alone.

Sheriff Warns Wallace.

Sheriff Dickson also called up Supt. Nicewaner of the bureau of highways and sewers, whose "white-wings" were also detected tearing down the election notices. The same warning was given Nicewaner. Deputy Sheriff Noble Mathews says he saw Policeman Charles L. Cooper tear election notices down in the Seventeenth ward and said a police sergeant threatened to arrest a billposter for putting up an election notice in front of No. 5 police station. The deputy also saw a "white-wing" tear down a notice. The deputy told the foreigner that he was liable to go to the penitentiary.

"Me don't care. Boss told me to tear them down. Me do what the boss says," was the "white-wing's" answer.

URGE MR. M'QUAIDE FOR PLACE ON THE BENCH

Another name has been added to the already large list of attorneys whose friends are urging them for a place on one of the benches of the two new courts proposed for this county. A number of well-known Republicans in the Sixth legislative district are advancing Attorney Joseph R. McQuaide, formerly principal of Elizabeth Schools, for one of the positions. Mr. McQuaide was waited upon by a delegation from the Sixth district and asked if he would consent to allow his name to be used before the governor. He has not made up his mind, but told them he would give them an answer later.

J. F. BURKE WILL SPEAK AT A BOSTON BANQUET

James Francis Burke, congressman-elect from the Thirty-first district, will go to Boston tonight to speak at the Lincoln birthday banquet of the Middlesex club on Monday night. Mr. Burke will respond to the toast, "Lincoln." The other speakers will be Gov. George H. Utter of Rhode Island, Congressman John L. Griffith of Indiana and Lieut.-Gov. Curtis Guild, Jr., of Massachusetts. The Middlesex club was organized in 1867 and is composed of the leading Republicans of New England. This will be its 38th Lincoln banquet.

Formed a New Party.

At a mass meeting in Oakmont last night the Independent party was organized and the following officers elected: C. V. Tiers, chairman; A. S. Taylor, secretary, and L. M. Berton, treasurer. The platform calls for the purchase by the borough of the water plant supplying the borough, the issuance of $40,000 worth of bonds to pave and grade streets and a law granting the people the right, by popular vote, to veto borough laws obnoxious to them. The party will hold monthly meetings and arrange to take an active part in the next campaign.

Fulton to Stump for Mr. Larkin.

Andrew Fulton, the city delinquent tax collector, who enjoys an annual income of between $30,000 and $35,000 from his job under the present Citizens-Democratic city administration, will take the stump next week for the Citizens candidate for city controller, John B. Larkin. Mr. Fulton has also been assigned to do special work. He will devote his energies to lining up the firemen and policemen and to a certain class with which he has always claimed to have a personal influence.

MAN SUPPOSED POOR LEFT $40,000 HIDDEN

It Was Thought Altoona Bank Failure Had Wiped Out Troxal's Means.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

EBENSBURG, Feb. 10.—While searching through the effects of the late John Troxel, who died January 11, the administrators of his estate were startled to find thousands of dollars carefully concealed. Troxel was supposed to have died a poor man. In rummaging through a small safe the administrators came upon a small tin box in which were $27,000 in gold. Later they found an old belt in which there were $13,000 in bills.

Troxel conducted a small tobacco and stationery store in Gallatzin. He is said to have lost heavily through the failure of the Lloyd bank at Altoona several years ago, and it was supposed that all his savings had been swept away. With the failure of the bank he lost faith in such institutions and discontinued making deposits.

MRS. EDWARDS SUPPORTS PETITION OF GREASON

He Declares the Commonwealth Influenced the Woman's Testimony, Which She Corroborates.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

READING, Feb. 10.—Late this afternoon the petition of Samuel Greason, asking that his case be reopened and sent back to the Berks county court, was taken to Philadelphia to be filed with the Pennsylvania supreme court there by John H. Rothermel and William H. Sadler, his attorneys. The petition is based on Mrs. Edwards' confession on Thursday afternoon to Attorneys Lentz and Deyshor. This confession they will not give out for the present, but she made an affidavit, attached to the petition, declaring Greason had nothing to do with the crime, was not present, and that her testimony regarding him was false. The petition charges that he has been informed that persons representing the commonwealth offered to help Mrs. Edwards get a pardon if she would place the crime on the petitioner.

An appeal signed by Mrs. Edwards, asking that Greason's case be reopened, and supporting the allegations, accompanies the petition. She declares he is innocent and wishes to correct her testimony. She also declares that she was prevailed on to fasten the crime on Greason by intimidation. Her attorney, Oliver Lentz, will swear to an affidavit disclosing the entire affair.

The supreme court can send the case back to the Berks county court to decide if this after-discovered evidence is sufficient to warrant a new trial.

In the meantime the board of pardons will dispose of Mrs. Edwards' case next Wednesday, the day before the time set for the execution.

INDORSE GREATER CITY.

Oakland Board of Trade Passes Resolution Favoring Project—J. W. Wardrop Makes an Address.

Greater Pittsburgh was encouraged at a meeting of the Oakland board of trade held last night. James W. Wardrop, secretary and general manager of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, spoke on the advantages of the greater city and urged improved waterways and the construction of the Lake Erie ship canal.

He cited the advantage gained by the creation of Greater New York. He held that boroughs which are expected to come into Greater Pittsburgh would enjoy many advantages and perhaps better government. At the conclusion the following resolution was offered by J. W. Brown and unanimously adopted:

Resolved: That the Oakland board of trade heartily indorses the project to secure a Greater Pittsburgh at the earliest possible day and, realizing the urgent necessity for the making of public sentiment on the question clear to the state's lawmakers, it hereby directs the management of the Oakland board of trade to, without delay, circulate petitions in favor of action by the present legislature among the taxpayers of the Oakland district, and to collaborate with other organizations—business, civic and political—in the Greater City project in promptly initiating an effective campaign of education and agitation on the subject.

Resolved: That, believing that the construction and operation of the proposed Lake Erie and Ohio ship canal would, in a few years, make the Greater Pittsburgh the greatest interior city in the nation, we heartily approve of the movement now in progress to secure this great waterway.

ANOTHER STRIKE IN ST. PETERSBURG

Ironworkers Go Out and Others Join Them—Outlook Is Threatening.

TROUBLE IS FEARED SUNDAY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 10.—11 p. m.—St. Petersburg is again face to face with a renewal of the labor upheaval, the immediate incitement being the failure of the workmen to secure payment for the time they were out on strike, added to the fact that there has been no adjustment of the demands which led to the strike last month. The Putiloff iron works, where the former strike originated, is playing the principal role. There are 30,000 workmen already out within the metropolis, and the workmen at the torpedo factory in Kolpino, 18 miles distant, have also joined the strikers. There is a strong prospect of the movement extending.

Only energetic measures by the troops and police prevented the resumption today of the former tactics of the strikers, marching from factory to factory and inducing or compelling employes to lay down their tools. Thus far there has been no disorder in St. Petersburg, and the authorities appear to have the situation well in hand. However, circumstantial reports that the revolutionary element is about to join with the strikers and resort to bomb throwing are causing grave apprehension.

Trouble Is Feared Sunday.

The workmen today held a number of orderly meetings in open fields and big assemblages are scheduled for tomorrow. Sunday will be the crucial time.

The employers appear to think this government is trying to make them shoulder the onus of settling a political difficulty and have appointed a committee to draw up a memorial to Finance Minister Kokovsoff, setting forth the position that the government's persistent efforts to conciliate the men has not borne the expected fruit, and that the anger caused by the events of January 22 has been augmented by the delay in settling their grievances. Reports from many factories show that the hands are ripe for trouble and liable to strike.

Father Gopon's organization is reported to have appointed 33 delegates, who are to request Gov.-Gen. Trepoff to permit the workmen to send another representative delegation to see Emperor Nicholas and present a program of labor reforms and in the case of refusal to this request to repeat the attempt to march to the palace square.

Cause of Ironmakers' Strike.

The dispute at the Putiloff iron works centers in the question of hours. The men, since the resumption of work there, have been quitting at the end of eight hours. The manager ordered a proportionate reduction of their pay, and yesterday posted notices threatening dismissal if the men did not work the regular time, 10½ hours. The men tore down the notices, and this morning delivered their ultimatum of eight hours with no reduction of wages. The manager refused to concede the demand, and the entire works were deserted within one hour. The strikers induced the employes of a neighboring chemical works and a sugar factory to join them, and the car works and other establishments in the neighborhood are already idle. The secessions to the ranks of the strikers have reduced the entire section between the Moscow and Narva gates, except the Russo-American rubber works and one other factory, to idleness. Strong guards at the principal roads prevented strikers from passing out in bodies to proselyte the workmen of other districts.

A large group of strikers near the Putiloff works poured out the story of their grievances to the newspaper correspondents, and the policemen standing by did not interfere.

Starving But Determined.

"We are absolutely starving, but we are determined not to return to work until our demands are granted," they said, adding sarcastically: "Those $9,000,000 of Japanese gold must have gone astray or fallen into the hands of Manager Smyrnoff."

The men are deeply enraged against M. Smyrnoff. Rumors of an assault upon him and his department superintendents and of the killing of police spies are current in the city, but the strikers themselves profess ignorance of any such affairs. A policeman, who has been for many years on the Putiloff beat, confessed today that he had never seen the men in such an ugly mood, for which he blamed the students, who, he claimed, are inciting them to attack the works.

While the workmen in the Putiloff quarter were resorting to a strike to settle their grievances, the employes in a small factory won a victory on the strike pay question today by resorting to the courts. They sued the management for strike pay and were given a favorable verdict.

Czar Will Grant Assembly.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—The correspondent at St. Petersburg of the Daily Chronicle says: "Emperor Nicholas received in audience for two hours on Thursday Count [illegible], son of Count Leo Deonvitch, who brought his father's draft of a scheme for a 'people's assembly.' The emperor told Deonvitch that he himself had been working on a similar scheme, which would shortly be put into execution."

DO NOT WANT HANGING ON ST. PATRICK'S DAY

Irishmen Beseech Gov. Folk to Delay Execution of William Rudolph, Set for March 17.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 10.—Efforts are being made to induce Gov. Folk to change the date set for the execution of William Rudolph to some other day than St. Patrick's day. Rudolph was sentenced to be hanged March 17.

Representative J. M. Hennessy, Jr., of St. Louis placed the matter before the governor, pointing out that an execution on St. Patrick's day would tend to throw a spirit of gloom over the day's festivities. Word was received tonight from Jefferson City that Gov. Folk is inclined to delay the hanging of Rudolph until after St. Patrick's day. Gov. Folk said:

"I don't think any man should be hanged in the state of Missouri on the natal day of Ireland's patron saint. My formal answer to the request of Rudolph's friends will be announced just as soon as I can get time to look up the papers in the case."

URATIVE ACT WILL BE URGED

Senator Crawford and Representative Cook Have Trust Company Bill in Hand.

TO TAKE ACTION ON TUESDAY

Notwithstanding local attorneys at their meeting Thursday agreed to stand pat on the act of 1901, permitting trust companies to go on bonds of liquor men, many of them yesterday repudiated their own action by filing second petitions for their clients in order to be on the safe side, knowing that if there was the least possible chance the Anti-Saloon league would surely use it to knock out their licenses. Many others advised their clients that it was not necessary, as the applications were all right, but others refused to even stand their ground on that matter and told them to get two freeholders.

The clerk of courts' office was busy as a beehive, almost every lawyer working overtime to get his clients in line. They all claim the act is perfectly good, yet do not care to take any chance of being knocked out for want of jurisdiction on the part of the court.

However, if the program of several attorneys who are members of the legislature goes through, the second petitions will not be necessary. Attorney L. B. Cook will on Tuesday introduce in the house a curative act which has been drawn very carefully by Thomas J. Ford, James Francis Burke and himself. The same bill will be introduced at the same time in the senate by Senator John W. Crawford, and both expect to see it rushed through without question.

Act Is No Good.

Attorney Cook laughed yesterday when asked what his personal opinion was regarding the constitutionality of the act of 1901. He said there was hardly a question but that it was unconstitutional and would not stand. He said:

"We all know that the act is no good and cannot stand a test through the highest courts, but we will attend to it all right, and the liquor dealers and trust companies need have little fear but that it will be fixed up satisfactorily. We are anxious to correct all mistakes of that kind, but from what I know about it, The Gazette is to be congratulated for making the matter public at the proper time. It was a good thing the story came out as it did, for a little later we would not have had an opportunity to correct the mistakes of the legislature of 1901 and many of the petitions might possibly have failed. The act of 1895 did not give trust companies the right to go on excise bonds, and this has been decided, so that, with the apparent imperfections in the act of 1901, to say the least the matter had a serious aspect. I would not advise a second petition because of the curative act. Under any other circumstances, however, I would have surely advised any client of mine to file a second petition with two freeholders named as bondsmen."

Text of Curative Measure.

The act as prepared amends the ninth clause of the fifth section of the Brooks law of 1887, as amended by the act of 1893, and after repeating the section to be so amended, provides that it be amended to read as follows:

Section 9. The names of no less than two reputable freeholders of the county where the liquor is to be sold, who will be his, her or their sureties on the bond which is required, and a statement that each of said sureties is a bona fide owner of real estate in said county, worth over and above all encumbrances the sum of $2,000, and that it would sell for that much at public sale, and that he is not engaged in the manufacture of spirituous, vinuous, malt or brewed liquors. Provided, that when any person is surety upon more than one bond, he shall certify that he is worth $4,000 over and above all encumbrances, and over and above any previous bond he may be on as surety; or of a security, trust or surety company, organized and existing under the laws of this commonwealth, or of any other state of the United States of America, duly authorized to do business within the state of Pennsylvania by the insurance commissioner thereof: Provided further, that any application theretofore filed in the court of quarter sessions of any county in the commonwealth praying the court to grant the petitioner or petitioners to grant him, her or them a license to sell, vinuous, spirituous, malt or brewed liquors at retail, which application is pending in said court and undetermined, setting forth that a security, trust, or surety company, organized and existing under the laws of this commonwealth, or of any other state of the United States of America, duly authorized to do business within the state of Pennsylvania by the insurance commissioner thereof, has agreed to become surety for such applicant or applicants, and in all other respects shall be in conformity with the laws and rules of court governing the granting of retail licenses; then such application shall be good and effective, and the court shall proceed to hear and determine the case as if this act had been duly approved prior to filing of said application.

Amending the Tenth Section.

The new act then repeats and amends the tenth section of the Brooks law, which provides for two sufficient sureties, to read:

Sec. 10.—The license shall not be issued to any person or persons until he, she or they shall have executed a bond to the commonwealth and a warrant of attorney to confess judgment in the penal sum of $2,000; with two sufficient sureties, where the same are individuals; or of one sufficient surety, where the same is a security, trust or surety company, organized and existing under the laws of this commonwealth or under the laws of any other state of the United States of America, duly authorized to do business within the state of Pennsylvania by the insurance commissioner thereof; to be approved by the court granting such license, conditioned for the faithful observance of all the laws of this commonwealth relating to the selling or furnishing of vinuous, spirituous, malt or brewed liquors, or any admixture thereof, and to pay all damages which may be recovered in any action which may be instituted against him, her or them under the provisions of any act of assembly, and all costs, fines and penalties which may be imposed upon him, her or them, under any indictment for violating this act, or any other act of assembly relating to selling or furnishing liquors as aforesaid; and the said bonds shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the said court for the use and benefit of all persons interested therein.

Mr. Cook explained that the legislature would not regard this as liquor legislation, as it principally affected the trust companies and would be passed in their interest. At the same time he said those retail liquor dealers who would find it impossible at this time to change their petitions or file new ones should be protected from losing their business on a pure technicality, as the intent of the legislature was very plain on its face.

DRANK POISON WHICH DOCTORS HAD ORDERED

Charles McGreevy of Hazelwood Tries to Kill Himself Because of Wife's Illness.

While worrying over the decision of physicians that his wife would have to be taken to a hospital today to undergo an operation, Charles McGreevy, aged 32, of Hazelwood, at 10:30 o'clock last night attempted suicide at Eighth avenue and City Farm lane, Homestead. McGreevy is employed at the Homestead steel works and after the doctors concluded their consultation at his home in Hazelwood, McGreevy went to Homestead to draw his pay. He met several companions and visited a number of saloons, it is alleged.

On passing a drug store McGreevy went inside to buy two ounces of iodine, which the physicians had ordered him to bring home, and his companions went into a saloon. When they returned to the street they found McGreevy in a state of collapse on the sidewalk in front of the drug store. He was taken to Dr. E. E. Weible's office and after the physician worked with him for about an hour he was revived. McGreevy then confessed he had taken the iodine and gave the doctor the bottle, saying he was distracted by worry over his wife's condition. McGreevy was placed in the Homestead lockup and an officer was detailed to guard him.

McGreevy is said to be a sergeant in company B, Eighteenth regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania. At the last annual encampment it is reported Gov. Pennypacker publically complimented McGreevy on his natty appearance at the inspection. He will recover.

FORMED AN ASSOCIATION.

Lake Erie Railroad Men United in a Social and Business Organization Last Night.

Something novel among the railroads of this district was originated at the Terminal building of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad last evening, when 75 agents of the company met and, with the co-operation of the officers of the company, formed the "Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Agents' Association." In this way the twenty-sixth anniversary of the start of business on the road was celebrated.

The plans of the new association provide for a quarterly assembly of this kind, with discussions on matters pertaining to business for the serious side of the work. It is expected to gather in this association every agent of the railroad.

General Superintendent J. B. Yohe acted as toastmaster. Among the officials present who made speeches were W. A. Terry, general freight agent; L. A. Robison, general passenger agent; J. A. Atwood, chief engineer; J. C. Grooms, land and claim agent; C. L. Gist, superintendent of transportation; Superintendents J. W. Riley and G. B. Obey; E. H. Kennedy, auditor, and A. P. Bixler, assistant auditor. B. G. Hood, freight agent at Pittsburgh, was chosen president and H. E. Obley, traveling agent, secretary of the new organization.

NEWSBOYS' HOME REPORT.

Statement Just Issued Shows Institution to Be in Excellent Condition.

The annual report of the Pittsburgh Newsboys' home for the year 1904 has just been issued. It shows the institution to be in better condition and more effectively accomplishing its purpose than ever before. The report includes a history of the home, together with illustrations, reports of officers, list of contributors and charter and by-laws.

The receipts from all sources last year were $10,494 29 and the expenditures $10,046 80, leaving a cash balance of $447 49. The endowment fund has reached $6,081 91. During the year 77 boys were entertained at the home, including transient and permanent guests. The boys are not only given accommodations, but are taught all elementary and some advanced courses of instructions, while manual training has also become a fixture.

Daughter Saved the Silverware.

Robbers were compelled to leave the home of A. J. Wild, a merchant in Locust street, McKeesport, yesterday morning, after piling silverware on a table in the center of the dining-room. The house had been ransacked and the booty was ready to be taken out of a rear window when one of Wild's daughters, convinced that someone was in the house, called to her father. When the latter got to the dining-room the thieves had escaped. An overcoat belonging to Wild and a small amount of money in pocketbooks belonging to the Misses Stella and Marie Wild were taken.

RADIATOR COMPANY WILL GO TO WEST PITTSBURGH

New $400,000 Industry to Employ 400 Men Plans to Start June 1.

The Kinnear Pressed Radiator Company, composed of Pittsburgh and New York capitalists, is to build a modern plant at West Pittsburgh. The company's capital is $400,000, all paid in. The factory is to be of steel and brick, 120x600 feet. The capacity is expected to be 8,000 square feet of radiator per day. If present plans carry, the plant will start operations before June 1.

The site secured consists of four or five acres fronting on the Beaver river, with connections to the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, Baltimore & Ohio and Pennsylvania railroads, and a connection with the Wabash to be built later. It is expected that fully 400 men will be employed there almost from the start.

GEYSER IN JAIL.

Man Suspected of Murder of Martha Kirkpatrick is Removed from Allegheny Central Station.

Norman H. Geyser, suspected of the murder of Mrs. Martha Shook Kirkpatrick, was taken from Allegheny Central station yesterday morning by Detective John King and lodged in the county jail. He apparently did not like the change of residence, but was in good spirits and ate well of the first meal served him at the jail. Coroner Armstrong has not set a date for the inquest, but it is likely Geyser's case will be heard on Monday.

The North Side police have maintained silence regarding their work during the past few days, but it is the intention of the police to try to show Geyser planned the murder and spoke of it several hours before the crime was committed.

L. K. Poust, the traveling salesman who was reported to have seen Mrs. Kirkpatrick and a man in dispute at Jackson street and Creighton alley last Saturday night, was not near that locality, but did see a man and woman standing in front of the Brunswick hotel. Poust overheard part of their conversation and this has been related to the police. It is likely Poust will be asked to identify Geyser if he can.

Advertise for a Position tomorrow in The Sunday Gazette and you'll get it.

You've had the news, ladies, and it was well featured in our columns of yesterday afternoon. It is for you to say whether you need a raincoat or not. If you say yes, then we say emphatically there will not be—well, for some time, anyhow—such another opportunity to get a stylish and practical garment, as the evolution of the raincoat has succeeded in becoming, for such underprices as we quote today.

Introducing the New Spring Wash Suits for Boys.

The new styles are ready, and they are brought in thus early to accommodate parents who like to lay in a supply for their boys before the lines are tumbled over, and also for those families going South for the balance of the Winter.

In this preliminary opening we are showing some seventy-five different styles of wash suits.

We pay particular attention to designing these wash suits, having an eye especially on the fit. After this our best endeavors are turned toward getting stylish suits for boys at lower prices than anywhere in the Greater City.

In the collection now on exhibit we make a special showing of white suits. It is the largest we have ever made so early in the season. A reference to prices—

We have had this cream only a short time—advertised it in the leading magazines once or twice—and in consequence we are sending it into every State in the Union on requests through our Mail-Order Department.

It is delicately perfumed, it protects the skin from the influence of the weather, it is particularly soothing to chafed skin—in a word, its functions are to keep the skin soft and smooth. We have it in five sizes of jars, 50c, 75c, $1.50 and up to $3.75.

Women's New Kid Gloves for Early Spring.

It will be readily understood that we have a great regard for all our kid gloves, but, like many people, we have our favorites—and their names are Reynier and Jouvin & Co. It is acknowledged, not only in Pittsburg, but in every other city of America, that these two makes of kid gloves are the finest—the leather of which they are constructed is the finest, the fit is the most perfect, the stitching is the most expert. Only the leading firm in any large city sells these two grades of gloves.

There are other fine gloves which find favor with women, and among them are those of Dent, Fisk, Clark & Flagg and Fownes.

Now, if you will kindly follow, we will take you among some very fashionable gloves—new models for the Spring of 1905—that are quite inexpensive:

$1.00 a pair. A very modest sum for women's new Glace Kid Gloves, having embroidered backs and two clasps. Noted particularly for perfect fit.

$1.50 a pair. French Kid Gloves with Imperial and the new passepartout embroidery. It is altogether unlikely that such a glove could be duplicated anywhere for a like price.

$1.50 a pair.—This is a very modest price for an extremely fashionable street Glove, an English Cape Glove with heavy strapped seams. It is shown in all the new tints.

Saturday, February 11, 1905.

An inbound trade excursion has been provided for by the Merchants and Manufacturers association from March 15 to April 16, while another excursion of the association to outlying towns has been arranged for May. The excursions of last year brought satisfactory results in the aggregate, though it has been found advisable to modify the plan of the inbound traffic. This year's excursions should give better returns because the movement is more generally understood and Pittsburgh is more widely known as a trade center. The association is doing a good work formerly much neglected.

An initial triumph has been gained in the action to restrain the street railway companies from occupying the Grant boulevard by the decision of the court refusing the motion to quash the proceedings and issuing an order requiring the companies to plead within 30 days. It may be that an appeal will be taken to the supreme court on this decision, but, anyhow, a step in advance has been taken toward a trial of the issue upon its merits, and meanwhile the companies are refraining from effective occupancy so as to avoid the expense of restoration in case the action goes against them in the end. The community is under obligations to the Voters' Civic league for accomplishing that much at least.

The cold wave that began to make itself felt here yesterday extended at that time back to the northern border of the United States. Weather influences travel at variable speeds from the British northwest, down to the Mississippi valley and on again toward the mouth of the St. Lawrence, but they rarely traverse the distance from Montana to Pittsburgh in less than three days. Calculating on that basis a frigid atmosphere may be expected to prevail until Monday morning at least, though it may be less severe than this morning. In short, this cold wave covers an area almost equal to that which prevailed last week. Others may reasonably be expected until toward the first of March.

By a strict party vote, the house committee on ways and means at Washington has voted to make concessions in the Philippines tariff on certain articles. The Democrats on the committee voted for free trade with more reason than they usually have in support of that policy. The action of the committee will be welcomed as an obvious step toward justice. American occupation of the Philippines must be made beneficial to the islands. Having deprived them of the commerce with Spain, it is necessary to give them something better in lieu of it. Not the least wholesome provision of the committee measure is the restriction of the opium trade and the clause looking to ultimate prohibition.

The suggestion of a Greater Pittsburgh banquet would appeal more strongly if it could include means of bringing all members of the legislature here to see the situation for themselves. The advantages of consolidation are so obvious that seeing is believing. The legislators alone need to be convinced of the necessity for the adoption of the pending bill, for the governor, with his usual sound judgment, recognized the merits of the situation in advance. Once the bill is passed, the remainder is easy. The people of every part of the territory proposed to be brought in the city will vote overwhelmingly for the privilege. The opposition consists of a mere handful of persons who have selfish interest in maintaining separate municipal organizations.

More than two years ago it was announced that President Roosevelt had made public his intention of sending Henry White, secretary of the embassy at London, to Rome as United States ambassador, but then Mr. George Von L. Meyer said that he had no intention of resigning and giving place to him. The matter was dropped for a time, but now the president has arranged matters so as to bring this change about. Mr. Von L. Meyer is to go to St. Petersburg in place of Ambassador McCormick, who is to be transferred to Paris to succeed Gen. Horace Porter, who retires. Mr. George Von L. Meyer enjoys his residence abroad, and the post in St. Petersburg promises to be an important one owing to the negotiations that must attend the close of the war between Russia and Japan. While the United States is not likely to be represented at a conference of the powers, the active part Secretary Hay has taken in negotiations for the preservation of China will require that the United States have a voice in the matter.

Our Position in Santo Domingo.

Rear Admiral Sigsbee has reached Santo Domingo, where he holds marines in readiness to prevent any outbreak against the seizure of the customs houses by United States officials. Lieutenant Commander Seiper, who was assigned to the Monte Cristi customs house, had been threatened and the naval officer warned the people that he would take action to insure his protection. Critics of the administration consider that an unwarranted case of bulldozing, for they say the senate has not yet ratified a treaty allowing the United States to interfere with the collection of customs.

Much misapprehension has arisen over the Santo Domingo crisis by those who fail to connect the recent agreement of President Morales with the arbitration award of last July. Then it was agreed that a United States officer should be stationed at Puerto Plata in order to collect the customs there and assign a portion of them to the claims of creditors. He also had authority to collect the customs at three other ports, and these included Monte Cristi. The agent of this country found that about one-third of the revenues were being misapplied and that many importers were entirely escaping their share of taxation. But as soon as he straightened matters out and began to honestly collect duties, trade was diverted to the other Santo Dominican ports, so the receipts did not increase as they should, while dishonesty was continued where the bulk of the imports were actually received.

This led to the protocol with President Morales of Santo Domingo, which was made at the request of other creditors who wished to share in the proceeds as well as those who did not wish to be thwarted in their attempt to collect debts through the arbitration award. By including all the ports there could be no evasion on the island, and this fuller protection was readily agreed to by President Morales. The attempt to take possession of the customs at Monte Cristi was made on the authority of the award of last July. There was a protest, for the president had practically agreed to allow the revolutionists to control Monte Cristi in return for their promise to cease hostilities. But this objection is not likely to be serious, as law-abiding people on the island welcome the intervention of the United States and its effort to preserve order in Santo Domingo.

It is proposed, therefore, that the protocol of January shall be but an extension of the authority taken by the agents to enforce the arbitration demand last July. Creditors claimed that the collections from one port were being diverted and wasted, and the administration thought best to take all ports and deal with all creditors as well as the Santo Domingo Improvement Company. The arbitration decree had set the precedent, and it cannot well be enforced except by the application of the principle to the ports of the whole island. Whether the senate will think it best to make a general treaty with the country will make little difference with the present case, where enforcement of the arbitration demands has to be immediate and positive. In the meantime the administration denies that an attempt has been made to apply the new protocol, as it prefers to give the senate an opportunity to act on it.

Canada Not Pleased.

The drawback decision of our treasury department is not received in Canada with rejoicing, although it is perceived that the effect will be to enlarge the American market for Canadian products in the way of raw material. The Toronto News remarks that "it will operate as a reciprocity treaty in natural products would have done, so far as our exports are concerned," and that "some years ago such an arrangement would have been hailed in Canada as a tremendous advantage." It goes on to say that the spread of protective sentiment in Canada has been such that there is a feeling in favor of retaining their raw material for their own use in building up exports of manufactures. So that, instead of being gratified by the concession made in the drawback decision, there is already an agitation in favor of counteracting it by an export duty upon wheat. There is a precedent for such action in the regulations forbidding the export of logs from Ontario. There is now a movement for an export duty upon lumber to encourage the manufacture of furniture in Canada. It is impossible to see how an export duty can encourage manufactures except at the expense of home producers who are forced to sell at a less price than they could get in a foreign market. Legislation of that kind would not be tolerated in this country, and is, indeed, prohibited by our Constitution.

Another matter in which Canada feels aggrieved is the Hay-Bond treaty, which is viewed as a discrimination by New Foundland against the Dominion and in favor of the United States. New Foundland has refused to join the Dominion and remains an independent colony. The Toronto Mail and Empire claims that the treaty should not have been adopted until Canada had been consulted in the negotiations and that something ought to be done now to avert the disaster of having "two British colonies in North America placed in the position of unhealthy and unpatriotic discrimination."

Altogether there does not seem to have been any period in the relations of Canada and the United States when reciprocity agreement would be so unlikely as now. The agitation in favor of it in Massachusetts seems to be singularly inopportune. If Canada does not want reciprocity it would be of no use to offer it even if we were willing.

Party of Broken Pledges.

Controller Larkin's claims of having paid the debt of East Birmingham are almost as wild as his sensational pledge of three years ago to reduce the tax rate to 10 mills or the assessed value of taxable property to $200,000,000. The debt has been paid by the regular operation of measures devised before the controller was in politics. The most servile of the administration organs apologizes for the controller's failure to redeem his exuberant pledges by the plea that he couldn't help it. It is the same way with the East Birmingham debt; he couldn't help its being paid.

Mr. Larkin is in an unfortunate position. The pledges he made during his first campaign have not been redeemed. His organs plead that it is not his fault. This is equivalent to an indictment against the controller that he did not know what he was talking about three years ago. It is an indictment of the controller's party for faithlessness and willful mismanagement. There is no possible guarantee that the controller has anything better to offer for another term, but it is a certainty that every man who votes for him must lend his suffrage to bolster the waning prestige of the Citizens party, which is accused by its own organs of having prevented the controller from carrying out his beneficent designs.

There is no escape from the humiliation of voting as a member of the party of broken pledges, except by voting for Andrew C. McLean. Mr. McLean's personality is a guarantee of as efficient and honest service as any other man can give in the controller's office. A vote for him will be a rebuke of the principle—or more properly the lack of all principle—involved in the systematic violation of every pledge given to secure the pre-election confidence of the people.

The Business Situation.

There is abundant evidence to prove not only a large expansion in the volume of current business, but of growing confidence in the future. The Iron Age describes conditions in the industry concerning which it is an authority as "astounding." The output of pig iron in January amounted to 1,776,568 tons, which establishes a new high record in the country's history. This is at the rate of 21,000,000 tons a year, as compared with a maximum production of 18,000,000 tons in 1903. At the beginning of February the weekly capacity of furnaces in blast was 402,292 tons, and this is in the face of a scarcity of coke and the drawbacks of severe weather. While production has increased, furnace stocks have decreased, indicating that consumption is still ahead of production. The January output of furnaces in the Pittsburgh district was nearly double the total for the same month last year. The stimulating effect of this is seen in the large increase in local bank exchanges, which measure the volume of general business.

Statistics are not at hand to determine the proportion of the iron business to be divided between domestic and foreign consumers. Information on this point will come when the government classifies our foreign trade for the month. The indications are, however, that so far the increased tonnage is for the purpose of supplying the home demand. The labor troubles throughout Germany have curtailed the output of mines and furnaces in that country, our chief competitor, and there have been some expectations that a continuation of these strikes would result in higher prices in foreign markets and an urgent demand for our products, but local authorities in the trade express the opinion that our mills and furnaces may be taxed to their capacity to take care of domestic trade.

One of the strongest evidences of confidence in the future is furnished by the breadth and buoyancy of the market for investment securities. Iron mills may be crowded with orders for future delivery, but intending buyers may withhold specifications and in effect cancel orders if there is anything of an unfavorable nature clouding the horizon. Dealings in the investment market, however, are on a cash basis with immediate delivery, and these dealings have been larger so far this year than ever before. On the New York stock exchange, where more or less speculation is involved in the trading, the transactions since the beginning of the year have exceeded $130,000,000, an increase of $90,000,000 over the corresponding period last year. Private transactions have far exceeded this total, and borrowers have been able to supply their needs on more favorable terms than for years. Some of these transactions have represented refunding operations, but many of them represent the providing of means to carry forward plans of improvement held in abeyance for two or three years past. The prevailing ease in the money market and the facility with which bonds are floated have a direct bearing upon the revival of activity in industrial circles.

Another evidence of confidence in the future is the entire absence of uneasiness on the part of the general public over the movement for government regulation of railroad rates. The transportation question is so great and in some respects so intricate that entire agreement as to its treatment by the government could not be expected. But the opponents of government regulation have been wholly unsuccessful in arousing any apprehension in the minds of security holders, some of whom might possibly be affected. Stock market values advanced, in many instances to the highest level for more than two years, and the proposed legislation, in some respects the most important ever attempted, has reached its present stage without causing the least disturbance to financial or commercial interests.

Award of the armor plate contracts to Bethlehem and Carnegie, despite the lower bid of Midvale, has created quite a stir in some quarters. It is quite certain, however, a careful investigation will disclose ample and good reasons.

Selection of former Attorney General Judson N. Harmon to prosecute the inquiry into Santa Fe rebates is assurance that Democratic accusations against Secretary Paul Morton have no foundation.

Democratic members have done their best to get some party credit out of the rate bill, though their frantic efforts have been chiefly valuable by way of disclosing Democratic inefficiency.

South Siders are compelled to pay "only 55 per cent profit" to the water company that sometimes supplies its wants and sometimes shuts off the water without warning.

Sheriff Dickson properly objects to having his official election proclamations torn down on the pretense that they are offensive campaign documents.

After all the license scare was much ado about nothing. The supreme court has contrary opinions to those of the Cambria county judge.

A banquet is proposed to boom the Greater Pittsburgh. Well, that is one way to mellow the opposition if it can be corralled.

Russia has decided to double the Siberian railroad between Omsk and Tomsk. The difference ought to suit it to a T.

Following a year of depression the Pittsburgh Coal Company is able to present a decidedly encouraging statement.

Controller Larkin's solicitude for the South Side doesn't extend to water rents and the benefits of filtration.

Danger of an extensive thirst passed yesterday with the discovery of a supreme court decision.

Pool boats are moving again and the prospects for a coal famine have gone with the ice.

Norway and Sweden might perceive a great truth in the Kentucky state motto.

The flood season has opened in the south. It will be on in the north later.

Talked of in Gotham

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The "rumor mill" is a most prolific producer in Wall street. In fact it is the only industry in the financial district of the metropolis which does not depend upon more energetic sections of the world. But the rumor mill is always busy. There are never any slack times, strikes or other retarding influences. And, too, it is one of the most important institutions in the street, used by bulls and bears alike to drive prices up or down. No story is too absurd, it would seem, to be accepted as fact by the nervous operators, to whom a change of a few points in the price of a stock may mean wealth or penury.

Today the rumor mill got busy with the name of one of the most prominent operators in the street. What hadn't happened to him was hardly worth mentioning. The least of his troubles, according to the tale that was widely circulated, was that he was to be "sold out," that he had loaded up with stuff for which he couldn't "make good," and that he was financially down and out. The rumor, as in the case of most of the output of the rumor mill of Wall street, mentioned no names, but made it very plain who was meant. Among the ramifications of the tale was the statement that the gentleman in question had recently developed mental unsoundness and was quietly carried to a sanitarium.

Wall street was staggered. The ruin of this man would mean the ruin of a dozen others of more or less prominence. Little else than the rumor was discussed or even thought of, and the whole contingent of operators in the street was preparing for a period of the strenuous life. Then came the denouement. Out upon the floor of the exchange walked the man whose name had been bandied about for hours. His step was sprightly and his eye clear, and there was no evidence that he was food for a sanitarium or financial ruin. Those who tried to make capital out of his fall saw that they had been "stung," and others breathed a sigh of relief. But the rumor mill will be just as active tomorrow as today.

Miller to Begin Life Over.

William F. Miller of 520 per cent fame, who since 1900 has been having his sunshine and air sifted through the iron bars of Sing Sing, will begin to take these luxuries straight again next Monday, through the clemency of Gov. Higgins, who has just announced a commutation of sentence. Miller and his colleagues were among the pioneers of the "get-rich-quick" scheme and by promising to pay 10 per cent a week on money left with them for investment gathered in enough hard-earned dollars to have run a political campaign. They kept their machine going by paying dividends for a while from the money that kept pouring in on them from the pockets of ministers, lawyers, policemen and others in every walk of life. Unfortunately, perpetual motion has not been discovered and Miller and his friends were. Who got away with the profits has never been shown; Miller says he got only a few paltry thousands. Robert Ammon, the former Pittsburgh attorney, who is also in Sing Sing for connection with the syndicate, now hopes for an early release. A petition has been circulated in his behalf and largely signed.

Another Day of Slushy Streets.

One need only take a trip into the side streets of New York to wonder how many millions of money would be required to actually clear the snow from the streets, since more than a million has been spent in a vain endeavor to do the work. Today was almost spring-like in the atmosphere, but everywhere was mud and slush in evidence, and walking consequently arduous. The vehicles coming into the main avenues from the by-ways carry snow on their wheels, depositing it on the crossings, where the sun added it to the muddy water already in evidence. The result has been that a "shine" is a delusion, and rainy day skirts are about the proper regalia for the gentler sex. The New York street department is undoubtedly doing its best, but all efforts to provide decent footing this winter have been futile. Never has there been so much snow in the history of the city, and few there are who will not welcome the coming of spring—and even Coney Island.

Here's a Man of Nerve.

Seeing a fast moving southbound train bearing down upon him in the subway station at One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street and Lenox avenue early today, and realizing that only quick action on his part could save his life, Arthur Watson, a gateman, threw himself flat on his face between the tracks and allowed the whole train of seven cars to pass over him. Pale from fright, several employes in the station who had witnessed the scene rushed to his aid after the train had gone and found the man practically unscathed. His overcoat, however, had been torn to ribbons where the bottom of the motor boxes had caught it and his trousers were ripped their full length. Watson's hips were slightly bruised, but he was found to be suffering from severe shock more than anything else. It was the opinion of all who saw the occurrence that almost any other man would have lost his head completely when confronted by such danger and would have been killed. Watson took the only chance offered to him, however, and saved his life.

To Abolish "Raines Law Hotel."

Ex-Gov. Odell has arranged for another conference of Republican leaders of the legislature at the Fifth Avenue hotel tomorrow. The chief matter to be considered is the proposed amendment of the Raines law. Senator Raines will be on hand, and it is said he has completed a bill which will be approved by the conference and introduced in the senate and assembly next Monday night. Positive information came from Republican state headquarters this afternoon that the program for excise legislation Monday will be put through. No attention whatever will be given to any Sunday opening proposal or to the scheme to permit restaurants without hotel licenses to sell liquor on Sunday; but the Raines law will be so amended as to make its hotel provisions more stringent and thus abolish some of the "fake" hotels. District Attorney Jerome's proposal to permit saloon opening during certain hours on Sundays was not considered at all.

Stork Brings Small Cargo.

A diminutive bit of humanity arrived in Jersey City this morning. The mother is Theresa Selva, and the baby weighed at birth exactly 14½ ounces. So small and weak was it that the parents feared it would die, and called in a Catholic priest to christen it at once. The infant filled one of the priest's hands. The baby was born at the City hospital and the physicians of the institution speedily telephoned to New York and to neighboring cities for an incubator, in which, it is thought, the small visitor will have a chance at life. The child is perfectly formed and it is apparently healthy, but its minuteness, the doctor says, is a great handicap.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

The dread of something after death,
The undiscovered country from whose bourne
No traveler returns, puzzles the will
And makes us rather bear those ills we have
Than fly to others that we know not of.
Thus conscience does make cowards of us all.
—Shakespeare.

What is conscience?

He who can tell what spirit is, and so define it that others can comprehend, may undertake to answer, but those of us who cannot define intelligence, nor life, nor love, may as well conclude that conscience is conscience, and let it go at that.

There are those who profess to know all about it, and it is perfectly clear to them, but after all their writing and arguing on the subject the average individual simply knows that conscience is conscience, that it is keenly sensitive as to right and wrong, according to their judgment concerning things, and that it is both a monitor and guide and a lash to punish.

Theologians have devoted much time to the discussion of this subject and to the formulation of theories concerning it, whether it is of the soul, the heart, or of the mental parts. But as on other deep questions they have failed to agree.

CONSCIENCE.

I sat alone with my conscience
In a place where time had ceased,
And we talked of my former living
In a land where the years increased,
And I felt I should have to answer
The question it put to me,
And to face the answer and question
Throughout an eternity.
The ghosts of forgotten actions
Came floating before my sight,
And the things that I thought were dead things
Were alive with a terrible might.
And the vision of all my past life
Was an awful thing to face,
Alone with my conscience, sitting
In that solemnly silent place.
And I thought of a far away warning
Of a sorrow that was to be mine,
In a land that then was the future,
But now is the present time.
And I thought of my former thinking
Of the judgment day to be,
But sitting alone with my conscience
Seemed judgment enough for me.
And I wondered if there were a future
To this land beyond the grave,
But no one gave me answer
And no one came to save.
Then I felt that the future was present
And the present would never go by,
For it was but the thought of my past life
Grown into eternity.
Then I woke from my timely dreaming
And the vision had passed away,
And I knew the far-away warning
Was a warning of yesterday.
And I pray that I may not forget it
In this land before the grave;
That I may not cry in the future
And no one come to save.
And so I have learned a lesson
Which I ought to have known before,
And which, though I learnt it dreaming,
I hope to forget no more.
So I sit alone with my conscience
In the place where the years increase,
And I try to remember the future
In the land where time will cease;
And I know of the future judgment,
How dreadful soe'er it be,
That to sit alone with my conscience
Will be judgment enough for me.
—Charles W. Stubbs.

Without entering into the discussion of the source of conscience, or the many whys and wherefores concerning it, a few extracts from Gifford's "Laws of the Soul" are given herewith. These will suggest to you the reason why a layman should keep out of the muddle, for a muddle it appears to be.

"What a man knows, he knows," says Dr. Gifford, "and what he knows he knows he is quite sure of. This may be called a law of psychology. But the question is, how does he know that he knows anything?

"There is only one way by which a man may be absolutely sure of anything; that is through consciousness. What a man knows in consciousness he knows without any effort, and knows it because he cannot help knowing it. This may be termed a law of consciousness.

"Consciousness is defined as 'the perception of what is passing in his own mind,' but it is also the perception of what is impressed upon the mind. This perception is intuitive; that is, we see it because we cannot help seeing it."

This, as you may have noted, refers to consciousness, that is, to the recognition of facts, material or otherwise; but conscience, the monitor that accuses or excuses, is different in that it is a something, an entity which, like spirit, is not tangible, or within the comprehension of our crude senses.

* * *

"Is conscience innate?" was one of the questions that the advanced classes in the old-fashioned literary society used to tackle. And they discussed it well, too, according to their lights, but never succeeded in settling it, the verdict of the judges being neither final nor binding.

And yet, little as we know about conscience, it has ever been a thing of great importance. It was for conscience's sake that the Pilgrim fathers left England and went to Holland, from whence they sailed to the new world, where they could worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience.

Freedom of conscience was loudly proclaimed by these brave people, but it was not long after they had gotten settled in their New England homes until they chased good Father Rodger Sherman across the borders to spend a cold winter in an Indian camp, because he insisted on worshiping God according to the dictates of his own conscience, which happened to differ from the Puritan way.

Following this they persecuted the Quakers in Boston and thereabouts, nailing fast the doors of their meeting houses, and forbidding them to assemble anywhere for the purpose of worshiping God according to the dictates of their own conscience.

And all this these champions of the freedom of conscience did after rebelling against the king because he insisted upon them worshiping God after the manner in which he worshiped.

Man is an odd sort, don't you think?

He has various notions according to his birth, training and environment, and each one thinks his notion is the only one worth while. Those who have the nerve to support their notions with their lives, fortunes and sacred honors, become leaders, teachers and priests to others.

Every successful leader is guided by his conscience. He must be, for no man can be really great, either as a leader or teacher, who is not profoundly conscientious.

Without an all-pervading consciousness of being right no man can deeply impress his notions or beliefs on others, particularly upon those of his own mental and moral caliber.

Some contend that conscience is an infallible guide in all matters of conduct.

As a rule it is, but the conduct of the Puritans in denying the Baptists and Quakers the right to worship according to the dictates of their conscience in the colonies shows that it was not an infallible guide to right conduct in that instance.

But that it is a safe guide for man is universally admitted—safe according to his lights. If his lights are clear and bright with truth and humanity, then his conscience may be well nigh infallible.

Quite a good number of correspondents have sent copies of the poem printed above, but only one gave a clue to the author, Charles Stubbs, an English writer.

This was one of Moody's favorite poems, and was often used with good effect in his evangelistic work.

The Inauguration

By L. W. STRAYER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Arrangements for the inauguration ceremonies on March 4 are now practically completed and the committees in charge are occupied with the details such as securing quarters for the visitors, erecting reviewing stands, etc. The official portion of the program, the administering of the oath of office to the president and vice president, will be a repetition of what has taken place in former years at inauguration time and the inaugural ball will be the same exhibition that it has been heretofore, when out-of-town visitors can go and mingle with those whose names they read so often in the newspapers and whose doings are of interest to the nation. To those who have attended previous inaugurations, there will be no novelty about these features.

But the parade will be the big show. It will be the most remarkable parade that ever conducted a newly-made president from the capitol to the White House. Not only will it be the largest, but it will contain more variety of attractions than any circus or wild west exhibition. It is estimated that 40,000 marchers will participate, including soldiers, sailors and civilians and it will require from four to five hours for them to cover the distance from the capitol to the White House.

Indians Will Add Color.

Every branch of the military and naval service will be represented in the parade as is usual, and there will be the detachments of cadets from West Point and Annapolis. These are fixtures and no inaugural parade would be complete without them. Then there will be the militia from the several states, Pennsylvania alone furnishing a provisional brigade of about 2,500 men. One of the novelties will be the delegation of Indians brought here from the reservations for the express purpose of adding color and interest to the affair. They will come in their native costumes, with war paint and feathers, and nearly all of the larger Indian nations will be represented.

At the head of this exhibit will march Geronimo, that old rascal who for years terrorized the southwest country and kept Gens. Miles, Crook, Lawton and Wade playing hide-and-seek over the plains through the canyons of New Mexico and Arizona. He is a good Indian now, and has been ever since the government has kept him a close prisoner, and it will be a real holiday for him to get out on parade again and delude himself with the idea that he is going on the warpath once more to murder and plunder as he did in his palmy days. Geronimo is getting old now and it will not be long until he joins the other good Indians in the happy hunting ground, so that it is safe to predict that this is probably the last inauguration in which he will take part.

Abnormal Condition for Cowboys.

Seth Bullock, the pioneer and plainsman of Deadwood, S. D., friend of the president and supporter of the law and order in the wild and woolly west, is recruiting a company of cowpunchers to come here and help induct Mr. Roosevelt into office. They will bring their ponies, leather leggings, six shooters and sombreros and will give the effete east a true picture of the men who have made the west what it is. There was some nervousness expressed among the members of the inaugural committee when the proposition was made to bring these cowboys here for the occasion, based on the fear that their exuberance of spirits and their enthusiasm might get the better of them and cause them to "shoot up" the parade or stampede the Indian detachment, or do something else along that line in the way of relaxation.

Pennsylvania avenue is a very wide thoroughfare, but with a crowd of cowpunchers, each popping away with a pair of Colts 45, that street would shrink so that it would be entirely too small and confusing to suit the spectators. But President Roosevelt knows Seth Bullock and Seth Bullock knows his cowpunchers and when he gave his word that they would not cut up any capers or do anything to disgrace the affair, he was told to bring them along. Thus they come on their good behavior and bearing on their shoulders the fair reputation of the entire western country, so woe to the man of them who loads up with "red eye" and tries any funny business on this occasion. He would not dare to show his face again in Deadwood, for fear of playing the principal role in a lynching bee.

Pittsburghers Will Be in Line.

Other attractions in the parade will be the Porto Rican provisional regiment and the battalion of Filipino scouts, the latter the same that were in attendance at the St. Louis exposition. They will represent the territorial possessions of the United States and will prove very interesting features of the affair. In addition there will be 15 or 20 independent companies of military, including the Irish infantry, German artillery and Hungarian hussars. These with their gaudy uniforms and their prancing horses will add color and life to the exhibition.

Thirty-four civilian organizations from various parts of the country have already made arrangements to be present and participate in the parade. First and foremost of them, acting as escort to B. H. Warner, marshal of the civic division, will be the Americus club of Pittsburgh, with their red, white and blue umbrellas making a handsome appearance as they have at several previous inaugurations. Then there will be the Lincoln railsplitters of Toledo, the Buckeye Republican club of Columbus and the Tippecanoe club of Cleveland, all of them famous organizations, handsomely uniformed and well drilled. The Harvard Republican club, composed of 100 students from Harvard college, the president's alma mater, will march in the parade and there will be delegations from many other schools and colleges. The Roosevelt club of Minneapolis and the Original Roosevelt club of St. Paul will come attired in Rough Rider costume and a large number of other political organizations will adopt the same uniform. Altogether the parade promises to have a decided wild west flavor.

Picturesque Collection of Humanity.

Three years ago when arrangements were made for the coronation of King Edward of England, official and military representatives from every English dependency gathered in London to take part in the ceremonies. There were Canadian, Indian and Australian soldiers to be seen in the streets, each in his distinctive uniform. In the restaurants, at the theaters and at other places of public assemblage olive-skinned, white-turbaned nobles from far off India appeared in their native dignity and grandeur. Every people that owed allegiance to the British crown sent its representatives to the capital to assist in the crowning of the new monarch, and it brought together a picturesque and motley collection.

But it was no more picturesque than that which assembles in Washington on March 4 to induct President Roosevelt into office. Every race, color, excepting yellow, allowing allegiance to the stars and stripes, will be here. There will be the whites and the blacks, the red men and the brown men, all of them loyal subjects who will come to pay their respects and show their good will to the incoming chief executive.

City Preparing for Visitors.

Washington is preparing to entertain 300,000 strangers during the first few days of March and already the larger hotels have all their rooms engaged in advance. The smaller hotels and the boarding and lodging houses are putting in cots and extra mattresses and are enlarging their capacity to the limit so that all who come may find a place to sleep and eat. Housekeepers are already complaining that the price of food is going up in anticipation of inauguration prices and it is probable that for a few days war rates will prevail. The inaugural committee is busy in providing suitable quarters for the military organizations that will be present and they expect to have them all housed comfortably and conveniently.

Fully half the buildings fronting in Pennsylvania avenue between the capitol and the White House are now placarded with signs announcing that the windows and balconies are for rent to view the parade. Some tenants sell their windows on inauguration day for enough to pay their rent for the entire year and visitors are glad to pay a large price for a comfortable position from which to view the scene. While everybody is hoping and praying for good weather on March 4, experience has taught that every preparation must be made for inclement weather, since that is the rule, by preparing for rain, cold and slush there is a general opinion that a greater likelihood is created for fair weather.

GE IS BEFORE BAR OF JUSTICE

Charles Swayne Hears Charges of Impeachment in United States Senate.

ARRAIGNED BY MR. PALMER

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 10.

For the first time since he became a national character on account of impeachment proceedings Judge Charles Swayne of the northern district of Florida, charged with high crimes and misdemeanors, today appeared in person at the bar of the United States senate. The actual trial of his case was thus begun, and by an order, passed on motion of Senator Fairbanks, it will continue from 2 o'clock until 5 each day until completed. Judge Swayne entered the chamber showing little concern, and took a seat between his lawyers in front of the vice president's desk.

As soon as the trial began Senator Frye, president pro tem of the senate, yielded the chair to Senator Platt of Connecticut, who will preside over the proceedings. The sergeant-at-arms announced that altogether 67 witnesses had been summoned, and then Representative Palmer, on behalf of the house, made the opening statement, in which he outlined the case against Judge Swayne and what was expected to be proved.

Justice Is Assured.

Mr. Palmer referred to the character of the senators who constitute the court, and said that it is such as to justify the conclusion that "if guilty, nothing beneath the shining stars will allow them to let the respondent go unwhipped of justice," while he was just as sure that if innocent Judge Swayne would be vindicated. While speaking, Mr. Palmer stood opposite Judge Swayne and his lawyers. He faced them, and many times turned his gaze directly upon the respondent.

Mr. Palmer reviewed the several charges and was proceeding to arraign the respondent in connection with the use of a private car of a Florida railroad, and to show that the judge's plea to the senate does not correspond with his statement before a house committee, when Mr. Thurston objected, saying that under the law the testimony given before a congressional committee could not be used to his injury in a criminal proceeding.

The presiding officer sustained the objection, and Mr. Palmer thenceforth omitted quotations from the house testimony of the respondent.

Wants Attachment for Witness.

Mr. Palmer contended that there should be no hesitation about convicting Judge Swayne, saying that a minister of the law should not be a violator of the law. He spoke thus in connection with the charge of absence from his district made against the judge. He claimed that the respondent had been much of the time a thousand miles away from the district. This, he continued, constituted a misdemeanor under the law.

Mr. Palmer closed with a plea for thoroughness and justice, saying that the case had been instituted by the house of representatives in the name of all the people, who, he said, "demand that the judicial system be kept unsullied and pure."

The first witness sworn was Benjamin S. Liddon of Marianna, Fla., who was called to testify to the physical condition of Maj. Joseph H. Durkee of Jacksonville, who had been summoned as a witness, and had failed to respond on the ground of illness. Mr. Liddon was called by the house managers to show that Maj. Durkee was not incapacitated. Mr. Liddon said he had seen Durkee a week ago, and had then found him engaged in business. Mr. Palmer, on behalf of the house, asked that an attachment for Durkee be issued, and the chair took the request under consideration.

OLD-TIME SERENADERS WILL HOLD BIG DINNER

Amateurs of Thirty Years Ago Will Sing the Songs of Other Days for Sweet Charity.

The Stephen C. Foster serenaders will recall old times at a dinner and smoker to be given on February 25. The boys agreed to this last night at a meeting of the survivors held in the Nixon theater building. They called the roll of the 57 original members of that famous organization and found that 20 had been called away by death. Of the 37 remaining many are now hundreds of miles away. Nevertheless, the indications are that there will be a good sized dinner party and those who will attend will bring their voices and all of their former enthusiasm with them.

The dinner will be a celebration of the 29th anniversary of the organization of the serenaders. They first got together in February, 1876, and were the most popular amateurs in Pittsburgh. At the dinner ways and means will be devised for the holding of a concert for the benefit of the local hospitals, thus reviving a cherished custom of the old-timers.

DEATH UNDER THE WHEELS.

Smink read a paper on "Instruction in Music." Miss Carrie Alston spoke on "Reading," and cited "a method of preparation of the lesson." "Relations of the Teacher" was handled by Mrs. Cora E. Hunt.

Does Not Plan Consolidation.

Ex-Senator William Flinn denied last evening the published report that his trip to Ashtabula, O., on Thursday was in connection with a consolidation of traction lines built through that district. He said he made the trip for a business purpose, but not one of public interest.

Cambrians Will Hold Banquet.

STRANGE TALE OF RUNAWAY GIRL

Four Persons Charged With Conspiring to Keep Her from East End Home.

ONE IS SENT TO JAIL

Dr. Ross Selfridge and Mrs. Nora Selfridge and Mrs. Annie Clark of Brownsville avenue and Benjamin Johns, a carpenter of Derry station, were held for court on the charge of conspiring to keep 18-year-old Marie Martin from her home in Stanton avenue, by Alderman McGovern last night. Johns could not furnish bail and was committed to jail. The others were released upon furnishing bonds for $1,000 each.

Miss Martin, a prepossessing girl, was brought to the city from Johnstown by Constable C. L. Terrill of McGovern's office. James Martin, the young woman's father; her two brothers, James and Harry, and her sister, Miss Catherine Martin, were placed upon the witness stand and testified that they had gone to the Selfridge home in efforts to locate the girl, the witnesses declaring that if they had been given an opportunity to talk to the runaway she would have readily consented to return to her family.

Miss Martin told of going with Johns to the home of Dr. Selfridge in Brownsville avenue. When her parents sought her there she said she was taken to the home of Mrs. Clark, farther up the avenue, and from there to the home of Johns' sister in Kelly street. She said she was taken from Pittsburgh to the home of Johns' mother at Derry, then to Latrobe and from thence to Johnstown, where Johns wanted to marry her, but she refused.

Alderman McGovern said that Mrs. Selfridge admitted that she had written letters and telegrams and sent them to Cleveland and Buffalo that they might be mailed to the parents as coming from their daughter, imitating the girl's handwriting in the letters.

Johns, it is alleged, went to Mr. Martin and told him that his daughter would be returned to him, but intimating that considerable money had been expended on her, in getting her clothes and taking her from place to place. This is borne out by the fact that the girl was fitted out from head to foot in new clothing, and she declares that everything that she desired was provided for her and she was well treated in each of the many houses in which she had lived with Johns.

Mrs. Selfridge said that she was glad the case was going to court, as she was innocent of any crime and wanted a chance to tell her story. She said during the few days the girl was at her house she frequently urged her to marry Johns at once if she intended to do so, or if not to go home. She said neither she nor her husband had anything to do with keeping the girl from home.

"IF ICE CATCHES YOU CUT THE CABLES AND GO"

Steamboat Harry Brown Under Orders to Make Perilous Race With the Torrent.

"Cut the cables and stay with her if the ice catches you."

This is the order which the steamboat Harry Brown received yesterday from the headquarters of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company.

The Harry Brown was caught in the ice in the Ohio river near Industry, but under the orders given she will make a desperate attempt to reach a safe landing. A trip both exciting and perilous is believed to be before her and there will be lots of work, demanding a quick brain and a steady and strong arm, if the river rises rapidly.

The boat's bunkers have been filled from a coal mine near Industry, teams driving from the mine to the boat over the ice in the river. Her larder is stocked to withstand a long trip.

When the expected flood comes the boat will be caught in the swirl of breaking ice, from one to two feet thick. Her cables will be cut and with a full head of steam the pilot will head for the center of the stream and attempt to keep in the lead of the flood.

Old rivermen discuss the expected trip with much anxiety and say that the fight with the torrent may continue several days before a safe landing can be made. The boat may be carried as far as Cincinnati before such a harbor is found.

Simmons' Condition Still Critical.

The funeral of Mrs. John Dickerson of Juniata street, McKeesport, shot by Cornelius Combs, will take place from the Bethlehem Baptist church, Walnut street. The service will be conducted by the Rev. A. J. Tyler, pastor. George Simmons, the ex-policeman, who was shot at the same time, is still in a critical condition at the McKeesport hospital.

Boy Struck by a Car.

Frank Miller, aged 15, of 527 West Jefferson street, Allegheny, had his right arm broken and his head badly cut last night by being struck by a Charles street car on Jackson street.

TURN VILLAGES INTO FORTRESSES

Natives Flee from Region in Which Manchurian Armies Are Closely in Touch.

VLADIVOSTOK IS THREATENED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

HEADQUARTERS OF THE RUSSIAN ARMY, HUANSHAN, Feb. 10.—At present the attention of the Japanese is mainly concentrated on the narrow line east and west of the railway, where also pass the two main roads to Mukden. The armies are closely in touch all along the line of Sandiapu, Paohsingtun, Chenliampu, Liuchangtung and Shakhe.

The region is entirely deserted by natives, but their stone houses and stout walls have been turned into veritable fortresses. The declivities have been iced, and the ascent would be almost impossible even without obstructions and abatis. The approaches to the streets of the villages can be swept by machine guns hidden behind thick walls.

Notwithstanding the number of these quasi fortresses, the Japanese are not slackening their energy in entrenching, but persist in the work in the daytime in the face of Russian batteries, and at night the loud noise of the rumbling carts gives evidence of their untiring labors. The Russians are equally persistent, and, besides harrassing the Japanese working parties with rifle and cannon fire, themselves are fortifying and refortifying.

The Japanese continue to scatter proclamations in the Russian lines, and these papers are also openly distributed by Chinese in the streets of Mukden.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 11.—The Japanese measures for the blockade of Vladivostok, such as darkening the lighthouses and guarding the straits, excite no alarm here. Officials point out that the number of vessels which succeed in evading blockaders are filling the fortress with ample stores for the possible contingency of a siege.

The elevation of the Vladivostok fortress to the first rank shows that Russians expect it will play an important role the coming summer, but no one predicts when the siege will begin.

LITTLE FRICTION IN SANTO DOMINGO

Custom House at Monte Cristi Taken by Americans Without Disturbance.

PROTOCOL IS IN THE MAIL

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—During the day cablegrams were received at both the state and navy departments from Santo Domingo. The text of these were withheld from publication, but it was stated that they permitted the understanding that Lieut. Commander Leiper from the Detroit had established himself as collector of customs at Monte Cristi. There was no report of threatened disturbance, though an intimation was conveyed in the cablegrams that some of the Dominican leaders in opposition to Morales' administration do not view with satisfaction the action of the American naval commander in establishing himself at Monte Cristi.

If the torpedo-boat destroyer Stewart, which has been serving as a mail dispatch boat between Santo Domingo and San Juan, Porto Rico, succeeded in connecting the latter port with the mail steamer for New York the protocol should reach Washington by next Wednesday, and, as it is regarded as highly desirable that the agreement should be allowed to speak for itself in answer to certain criticisms that have been passed upon it, it is probable that, at the instance of the administration, the senate will publish the document immediately upon its receipt. The Stewart left San Juan yesterday, on her return to Santo Domingo City, and, in view of reports that the disaffected elements in Santo Domingo are interfering with the telegraph and cable service, the dispatch boats will continue to ply back and forth between San Juan and Santo Domingo as long as they may be needed for messenger work.

Commander Dillingham, who was associated with Minister Dawson in arranging the Dominican protocol, has arrived in Washington, and today had a conference with Assistant Secretary Loomis, to whom he made a verbal report of conditions existing in Santo Domingo when he left there. He emphasized the fact that there was no sign of disturbance or dissatisfaction on the part of any important element in the island with the projected protocol.

CAUGHT IN NEW YORK.

The men were drinking together and later, while walking along the road at Saw Mill run, Gerardi drew a revolver and shot Rochetti through the abdomen. The Italian died without making a statement. However, the shooting was witnessed by Nichola Alberio, Michael Estada and Michael Martin, who are under bail as witnesses. After the shooting Gerardi went to Washington, Pa. In marriage only when there is equality of health as well as affection. Affection may be the basis of unity in marriage, but the superstructure depends largely on the womanly health. When the wife is tormented with backache, distressed by headache, and racked by nervousness, she has no ambition for exercise or pleasure.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It cures headache, backache, and other womanly ills by curing the diseases of the womanly organism which cause them. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The dealer who offers a substitute for "Favorite Prescription" does so to gain the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines. His profit is your loss, therefore accept no substitute.

"My wife commenced to complain twenty years ago," writes Lewis A. Miller, ex-Chief of Police, 33 Prospect Street, Weissport, Pa. "We have tried the skill of twelve different doctors. She took gallons of medicine during the time she was ill, until I wrote to you and you told us what to do. She has taken eight bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and six of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' She can do her own work now and can walk around again and is quite smart.

"You can publish this letter if you wish. We have received such benefit that we wish every sufferer could derive the same amount of good. My wife's complaint seemed to be a complication of diseases—so the doctors said. We will ever remain your friends. May God bless you and your Institute."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets are the most desirable laxative for delicate women.

SOLVES SECRET OF NEW METAL

Prof. Perkins Says Electricity May Assist in Practical Application of Radium.

TALKED TO ENGINEERS' CLUB

That radium may be applied to practical uses through transmitting radio-activity to other substances is the belief of Prof. Henry A. Perkins of Trinity college, Hartford, who addressed the Westinghouse Electrical club at Wilkinsburg last night. Prof. Perkins discussed the new metal and illustrated some of its wonders with lantern slides. He showed that while radium defies chemical action, electricity enables scientists to analyze its substances and to acquaint themselves with its mystic properties.

Prof. Perkins is a graduate of Yale. He pursued his scientific studies at Columbia. He is the guest of Judge Joseph Buffington and will remain here until Monday. Yesterday morning he addressed the boys at Shadyside academy and spent the afternoon at the East Pittsburgh plant of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. For his lecture he carries a vial of radium containing about the one-five-thousandth part of an ounce of the precious material. It is worth $40. According to this estimate a pound of radium in avoirdupois weight would be worth $3,200,000.

Prof. Perkins has made a number of experiments recently with the wireless telephone and has attained a marked degree of success. Communication in his work was established by a powerful ray of light operating between two transmitters. This, Prof. Perkins declares, has been found feasible for distances ranging up to 15 or 20 miles in a clear atmosphere. Fog interferes with the success of the wireless telephone in equal proportion as the damp mist obstructs the rays of light. By shading the illuminating disks, the electrical waves can be transmitted in the brightest sunshine.

In his lecture Prof. Perkins recited the story of the discovery of radium by M. and Mme. Curie in Paris in 1898 and described the three classes of rays emitted from the metal and of the six distinct changes which occur in the process of its decay. The last of the changes, he said, evolved an element somewhat similar to polonium and which gives out heat in enormous proportions, 28 pounds giving out energy in the form of heat at the ratio of one horse-power continuously for 1,500 years, and yet only one-half its original bulk would be consumed. The energy in one pound is equal to 7,000,000 horse-power hours, sufficient to drive the largest ocean vessel twice across the Atlantic.

The scarcity of radium, Prof. Perkins said, made its practical application to science a matter seemingly impossible except where its activity could be communicated to other metals. Electrical science he believes will have a rich field for experiment in this very particular, and thus the electrical engineer has double reason to inform himself of the strange properties of the new metal.

DISCUSS GREATER CITY AROUND FESTIVE BOARD

Senator Goehring Exploits Plans for Mighty Banquet as Means to Secure Interchange of Ideas.

Impetus to the Greater Pittsburgh movement is to be given through a mighty banquet and gathering of business men, if the ideas of Senator John M. Goehring prevail. Senator Goehring says that as yet no tangible steps toward establishment of a greater city have been taken. It has been largely a question of talk, he asserts, and he believes that if all parties at interest could be got together around the festive board for an interchange of ideas a mighty stride toward the accomplishment of the purpose would be taken.

Senator Goehring's idea is to have the chamber of commerce, the Merchants and Manufacturers' association and other business bodies send out invitations to all prominent people in the state who will have even the smallest voice in the making of a Greater Pittsburgh. Let invitations be sent to the governor, both United States senators, members of congress from Pennsylvania, members of both branches of the state legislature and political leaders in both ends of the state. Add to these men of prominence in all of the sections which will be vitally effected by the formation of a greater city, and then let all place themselves squarely on record, whether for or against the project. By carrying out these plans Senator Goehring believes that much good will result. He says the proposition is now suffering from lack of concerted support. Even the delegation at Harrisburg from Pittsburgh, with a couple of exceptions, is lukewarm.

Senator Goehring intimates that he is at loss to know what to do with the bill. He says that two years ago when the matter was up he was fairly deluged with letters from his constituents on the subject; this session, however, he has not received a communication relating to the passage of a Greater Pittsburgh measure. From this he has arrived at the conclusion that the rabid opposition of two years ago no longer prevails. He concludes his utterances on the subject with the statement that he favors the proposition in the abstract, but reminds everybody that he is an Alleghenian and that he will do as his people wish in the matter.

THE THREE RIVERS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Feb. 10.—On account of the frozen condition of the river it is impossible to take the exact stage of the water. Private marks, however, show that a rise has occurred which amounts to about two feet. The Hercules Carroll was attempting to cut the ice around the packet boats and wharfboats along the front of the public landing today and knocked her wheel to pieces. She was forced to tie up at the foot of Main street for repairs. Clear and colder.

WARREN—River frozen. Cloudy and cold.

OIL CITY—River 1 foot 6 inches and stationary. Cloudy and cold.

MORGANTOWN—River 15 feet 8 inches and falling. Clear and colder.

STEUBENVILLE—River 5 feet 9 inches and stationary. Clear and cold.

LOUISVILLE—River stationary; 3 feet 3 inches in canal; 1 foot 1 inch on falls; 7 feet 9 inches below locks. Clear and cold.

POINT PLEASANT—River 7 feet 6 inches and rising. Clear and cold. The Kanawha ice broke at 5:30 p. m.

GREENSBORO—River 13 feet 8 inches and stationary. The ice passed out of pool No. 7 during the night, sinking the F. K. Hulings. Part of the ice from pool No. 8 passed down this afternoon. Fair and cold.

PREPARING FOR BREAK-UP.

Carpenters Are Busy Getting Boats in Shape for Ice Battle.

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 7.4 feet and the river was rising at the rate of about .4 of a foot an hour.

Although no immediate breakup in the rivers is expected, the rivermen are getting everything in shape for trouble when it comes. Carpenters were sent to all the boats yesterday to repair wheels damaged by ice. Others were sent to the fleets and a great lot of lumber is going down the rivers by rail and is being put into the boats to strengthen them.

The Charley Jutte was out yesterday, and steamed up to the Monongahela wharf where she took on a lot of stores. This is her first trip since she was wrecked at Cables eddy several weeks ago.

Capt. James A. Henderson is expected home from Cincinnati today. He went there to look after the interests of the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati Packet line in the burning of the Hudson last Sunday night.

The Monongahela river rose about 2½ feet on the thaw of Wednesday and Thursday and about another foot of water was looked for. It is not believed it will be enough to loosen up the ice, as the cold weather now prevailing will overcome the effects of the thaw.

It was confidently expected that the ice would go out of the first four pools of the Monongahela yesterday, but the sudden cold snap rather killed this belief. Pool boats were breaking up the ice in pools 1, 2, 3 and 4 yesterday. The River Coal Company had 14 boats distributed in the different pools, while three boats are doing similar duty for the C. Jutte Coal Company. The Allegheny was practically clear of ice in the Pittsburgh district yesterday morning, but is frozen almost solid from Springdale to headwaters.

APPROPRIATIONS WAIT INSPECTION

Charitable Institutions Must First Be Investigated by Legislative Committee.

CHAIRMAN PLUMMER'S PLANS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Press Building.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Feb. 10.

Representative J. Lee Plummer, chairman of the house appropriations committee, spent the afternoon here. He left for Hollidaysburg tonight. Mr. Plummer, when asked if any of the bills for charitable institutions would be reported out next week, replied in the negative.

The chairman said the institutions asking state aid must be visited and their needs investigated before his committee would take action on their requests. Another point which seems to have been overlooked by those who are asking that bills be reported at once is that the rules of the house provide that no bill making an appropriation shall advance beyond second reading until the general appropriation bill has been introduced and referred to its committee.

Mr. Plummer is now working on the general appropriation bill. He does not know how soon it can be whipped into shape. Much detail work is necessary. Departmental reports have a bearing and must be analyzed. It is probable that sub-committees of the appropriation committee will be able to start the latter part of next week on their tour of inspection.

This afternoon while chatting with Congressman-elect Reynolds and ex-Congressman Hicks, Chairman Plummer gave some interesting information. He said:

"The Pittsburgh Gazette is a great paper. The first money I ever made was 35 years ago, when as a boy of 10 years I sold The Gazette at my home in Tyrone. I received 5 cents a copy and a profit of 1 cent. It was the beginning of my business career, and while I have no cause for complaint, I am certain The Gazette has done better than I have.

"My father was the forgeman at Tyrone, and forgemen were the 'lords of the manor.' We lived in the 'big house,' and from it came the law and the necessities of life for the charcoal burners. What the forgeman said was final. He was the czar. Sometimes I think that the idea of political leadership which has so long prevailed in Pennsylvania sprung from the early-day vogue when the people looked to the forgeman to direct them. There were many forgemen, but each one was supreme in his jurisdiction."

Chairman Plummer, when he assumed charge of the appropriations committee, decided that all hearings should be open to newspapermen and those interested. He abolished executive sessions and is satisfied that the plan is a good one.

Capt. J. Clayton Erb, secretary to Insurance Commissioner Israel W. Durham, said today that Mr. Durham would not arrive home before Sunday.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

NEW DIRECTORS ELECTED.

Two Local Men Were Chosen on the Board of Pittsburgh Coal Company.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—(Special.)—At the annual meeting of the Pittsburgh Coal Company in Jersey City today the resignations of Peter M. Hitchcock of Cleveland, M. H. Taylor of Erie and J. D. Nicholson of Pittsburgh, as directors, were accepted. Newly elected directors are Calvary Morris of the Central Trust Company of Cleveland, S. M. Wallace, president of the Second National bank of Erie; Elliott Rodgers and Henry R. Rea of Pittsburgh.

STILL NO CHANGE IN THE TWO DEADLOCKS

DOVER, DEL., Feb. 10.—The third joint ballot for a United States senator taken by the Delaware legislature in joint session today showed no change.

JEFFERSON CITY, MO., Feb. 10.—No break in the Niedringhaus forces as a result of last night's caucus occurred in today's joint ballot of the legislature for a successor to United States senator Cockrell.

Ex-Princess Louise Denies Intrigue.

ROME, Feb. 10.—The Tribune today publishes a dispatch from Florence stating that Dr. Koerner, a lawyer from Dresden, Saxony, has visited the former crown princess of Saxony and communicated to her an order from King Frederick Augustus, her former husband, for the relinquishment of the custody of her child, the Princess Anna Monica Pia. She will resist the order and denies an intrigue between her and Count Guicciardini.

A FELLOW FEELING.

Why She Felt Lenient Toward the Drunkard.

A great deal depends upon the point of view. A good temperance woman was led, in a very peculiar way, to revise her somewhat harsh judgment of the poor devil who cannot resist his cups and she is now the more charitable. She writes:

"For many years I was a great sufferer from asthma. Finally my health got so poor that I found that I could not lie down, but walked the floor whilst others slept. I got so nervous I could not rest anywhere.

"Specialists told me I must give up the use of coffee—the main thing that I always thought gave me some relief. I consulted our family physician, and he, being a coffee fiend himself, told me to pay no attention to their advice. Coffee had such a charm for me that in passing a restaurant and getting a whiff of the fragrance I could not resist a cup. I felt very lenient towards the drunkard who could not pass the saloon. Friends often urged me to try Postum, but I turned a deaf ear, saying, 'That may do for people to whom coffee is harmful, but not for me—coffee and I will never part.'

"At last, however, I bought a package of Postum, although I was sure I could not drink it. I prepared it as directed, and served it for breakfast. Well, bitter as I was against it, I must say that never before had I tasted a more delicious cup of coffee! From that day to this (more than two years) I have never had a desire for the old coffee. My health soon returned; the asthma disappeared. I began to sleep well and in a short time I gained 20 pounds in weight.

"One day I handed my physician the tablets he had prescribed for me, telling him I had no use for them. He stayed for dinner. When I passed him his cofee cup he remarked, 'I am glad to see you were sensible enough not to let yourself be pursuaded that coffee was harmful. This is the best cup of coffee I ever drank,' he continued; 'the trouble is so few people know how to make good coffee.' When he got his second cup I told him he was drinking Postum. He was incredulous, but I convinced him, and now he uses nothing but Postum in his home, and has greatly improved in health." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

MILLIONS OF WOMEN SHOULD KNOW

CATARRH DESTROYS FACIAL BEAUTY.

Many Women Would Preserve Beauty and Health If Pe-ru-na Were Promptly Used.

MISS SARAH SCHILLER

THE TESTIMONY OF TWO BEAUTIFUL GIRLS WHO ESCAPED THE HORRORS OF CATARRH.

Miss Gertrude Pickles, 1628½ Sheridan St., N. W., Washington, D. C., writes:

"Several of my friends have advised the use of Peruna for colds and catarrh of the head, from which I had been a sufferer for some months.

"I am now much improved, in not only the catarrh, but my whole system, which I congratulate myself is due to the use of your grand medicine, Peruna. Accept my thanks."

If you suffer from catarrh in any form, do not neglect it. Buy a bottle of Peruna at once. A few doses in the first stage of the disease are worth more than a bottleful when the disease has become chronic.

MISS GERTRUDE PICKLES.

Miss Sarah Schiller, 1401 McEldery Street, Baltimore, Md., writes:

"I am pleased to endorse Peruna, as I took it about a year ago, and it soon brought relief from a cold on the lungs which threatened to be serious.

"My lungs were sore and inflamed, I coughed a couple of hours every night, and I felt that something must be done to heal up my lungs and rid me of this cough which disturbed my rest and was running me down.

"Peruna was suggested by some of my friends and acting upon their advice, I tried it, and found that it was able to bring about a speedy cure. You have my highest endorsement and thanks for the good it did me."

BOTH health and beauty are threatened in all cases of chronic catarrh.

No one can expect to have good health so long as their vitality is sapped away with catarrhal discharges.

Facial deformities are largely a result of catarrh of the head and throat.

Thus it is that women especially dread the ravages of catarrh.

Catarrh is an insidious disease that silently steals away the vitality and gradually destroys the symmetry and beauty of the human body.

Peruna will cure catarrh, no matter in what part of the system the disease may have settled.

Found Pe-ru-na Just Right.

Mrs. A. E. Richter, 278 Hastings St., Chicago, Ill., writes:

"Whenever I caught cold it settled in my left side. It started always with headaches and dizziness. I had no appetite and was very nervous.

"I take pleasure to inform you that through your suggestions and advice I am in good health today.

"I have always found your remedy to be just right. I can only express my thanks for your kindness."

We have on file thousands of testimonials from grateful women like the ones given above. We can give our readers only a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited indorsements we are receiving. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic and grateful letters of thanks as Dr. Hartman for Peruna. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located.

HOW THE SAIGEN WENT TO BOTTOM

Commander Okuda Tells Story of the Disaster to the Japanese Cruiser.

SAVED THE ROYAL PORTRAITS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

TOKYO, Dec. 28.—Commander Okuda, second in command of the ill-fated Japanese cruiser Saiyen when a Russian mine sent her to the bottom, has given the first detailed statement of the disaster. His recital, which follows, shows that the officers and crew displayed splendid bravery in the face of death, special instances of patriotic heroism being the rescue of the portraits of the emperor, empress and crown prince and the ship's secret signal book. The commander said:

"The Saiyen was in Louisa bay November 30, co-operating with the army, which was then engaged in an attack against the enemy's strongholds on 203-Meter hill. At 2:21 o'clock in the afternoon there was a sudden explosion, and almost immediately the ship listed to starboard. Capt. Tajima and all of us realized at once that all hope of saving the vessel was lost.

"The ship had struck one of the enemy's mines. The mine hit below the forward engine room, killing the five men on duty there and three in the after engine room. The ship made water very fast, but our captain remained on the bridge and directed me to take steps to save the crew. As the ship was quickly sinking I advised the captain to take to a boat, but he declined to do so, and remained at his post until death came to him.

"The enemy on Liaotie mountain, observing our condition, mercilessly poured a deadly fire on us and the comrade ships which hurried to our rescue. The Saiyen ordinarily carried five boats and one launch but, stripped for action, we only had three of the boats. Only two of the boats could be lowered and into these, under command of the chief paymaster and a sub-lieutenant, went 70 men.

"When the ship sank, the captain was on the port side of the bridge and I on the starboard side, and as the ship listed to starboard I must have gone down before the captain did. I sank very deep but gained the surface and caught hold of a hammock, which kept me afloat until I was picked up. Of the rescued five died afterward from the exposure.

"Only two minutes elapsed between the explosion and the sinking. When hope was gone, we determined to save the portraits of their majesties and the crown prince. Navigating Lieutenant Nashitomi went into the hold and with difficulty succeeded in bringing out the emperor's picture, and, entrusting it to the keeping of Chief Signalman Yamaguchi, again went below to recover the other two. The ship was then filling, but Nashitomi succeeded in getting them and, regaining the deck, sprang into the sea just as the ship went down.

"Previously Nashitomi had instructed Engineer Tame to save and preserve the signal book, Tame being the nearest man available. The signal book was already well under water, but Tame, knowing its value, dove into the flooded room and brought the book to the surface.

"It was due to the valor of our comrade ships that 13 officers, six warrant officers and 140 men were rescued. Capt. Tajima and 30 others were lost. We searched for their bodies until December 3, but did not recover the remains of our beloved commander.

"Lieut. Kashiwaga, who was a good swimmer, caught hold of an empty barrel and evidently tried to make the land, but died from exposure to the bitter cold air and water. As the ship went down, our thoughts were for our captain and our men cried out, 'Captain, captain, where are you?' but the rolling of the sea was the only response."

Gobin, who will command the provisional regiment of the Pennsylvania National Guard that is to take part in the inaugural parade, will establish his headquarters at the Pennsylvania club during his stay in Washington, and he and his 15 officers will lodge there. The club occupies a fine large house fronting in McPherson square and its upper floors contain a number of sleeping rooms, which have been placed at the disposal of Gen. Gobin.

In the case of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company against most of the trunk lines an extension of 10 days has been granted the New York Central to file its answer to the charges now pending before the interstate commerce commission. The request was granted to the railroad because the commission will not be ready to hear the case before some time in March. It will take until the first of March to dispose of the cases on its docket. After that date the Glass company hearing will be set and after that the Waverly Oil Company, also a Pittsburgh case, will be taken up by the commission.

PRECIOUS STONES AT STAKE.

Woman Charged With Theft of Diamonds Valued at $1,500.

The ownership of $1,500 worth of precious stones was at stake in the hearing yesterday before Alderman Toole. The prosecutor was C. S. Rothleder of 1801 Carson street, who charged Marie Saulsbury of 51 Colwell street with stealing the gems. The jewelry consisted of a solitaire diamond ring valued at $700, a diamond locket worth $600, and a pair of diamond cuff links. These latter trinkets Rothleder said the woman had given him "for friendship sake," but this Miss Saulsbury denied, she claiming she loaned the buttons to Rothleder to wear during the day, they returning to her possession at night.

The woman denied taking the ring and locket from Rothleder, insisting that he gave them to her after a scene in which he had said he had "another girl who would give him $100 where she would give him $10." Alderman Toole held the woman for court in $1,000 bail, which was furnished.

Mayor Wyman and City Controller Brown yesterday afternoon opened bids for stationery for the several departments of the city government of Allegheny for the ensuing fiscal year. There were only two bidders, Joseph T. Colvin, assignee of the Duquesne Printing Company, $2,317 25, and W. G. Johnston & Co., $2,439 75. The contract was awarded to Colvin, the lowest bidder.

PEACE PROPOSALS ARE UNDER WAY

Despite Denials, Foreign Offices Are Quietly Engaged in Bringing About Understanding.

INDEMNITY STUMBLING BLOCK

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Feb. 10.—That negotiations to bring about peace between Russia and Japan are in progress, despite official denials from St. Petersburg and elsewhere, is accepted as a fact in diplomatic circles. There is high authority for the assertion that the foreign offices of Great Britain, France, Germany and the United States, all are quietly engaged in bringing about an understanding between the belligerents, which will give Japan assurance of a permanent peace without so great a sacrifice of dignity on the part of Russia as will inflict an irreparable injury to that nation's prestige in Asia, and accentuate the difficulties with which the Russian government is faced at home.

The question of indemnity is the greatest stumbling block now in the way. The Russian government is unwilling to pay to Japan any indemnity, on the ground such payment would be a public acknowledgement of defeat, which would be practically certain to lead to revolt and which would give the revolutionary element a powerful weapon against the government. With the question of indemnity eliminated, it is probable Russia would be willing to consent to the remainder of the terms which Japan is believed to be willing to accept as a basis of peace.

Japan, however, has intimated she may be willing to forego a demand for indemnity, provided Great Britain and other neutral powers will make a formal promise to guarantee that Russia will respect Chinese territorial integrity, and will not attack Japan for at least 20 years. An interchange of notes between the chancelleries at Paris, Berlin, Washington and London on this point is going on, and diplomats here are inclined to believe the guarantee asked by Japan will be given.

While the Japanese demands include the restoration of Saghelien to the Japanese empire and the dismantlement of Vladivostok, it is not believed here that these demands will be insisted upon if they stand in the way of peace. Japan's irreducible minimum, however, is the transferance to her of the Russian concessions on the Liao Tung peninsula and of the railroad from Harbin to Port Arthur and a Japanese protectorate over Korea.

WILL IMPROVE CLUB.

Management of the Americus Propose to Provide Additional Room.

Plans are being considered for an enlargement and rebuilding of the clubhouse of the Americus club at Penn avenue and Fourth street. Nothing definite has been decided upon, but the management of the club wishes to provide additional room, needed to give adequate facilities to all departments of the club.

It was reported yesterday that $50,000 was to be provided for this purpose, but this was stated by a director yesterday to be a great exaggeration, as the improvements planned would not cost one-tenth that amount.

O'Brein Suspected of Robbery.

John O'Brien, arrested last night at Smithfield and Water streets, is being held at the Central station as a suspicious character. It is alleged that O'Brien and two others robbed Andy Olous of Braddock in Water street. The Hungarian said they took $25 from him. O'Brien was once a policeman of this city, but has not been connected with the force for 10 years.

HARD BLOWS STRUCK IN THE VICE CRUSADE

Philadelphia Dive Keepers Get Prison Sentences Ranging from Two to Four Years.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 10.—Barney Pilnick, charged with conducting 10 different dives in the past four years, was today sentenced to four years in the county prison, the heaviest sentence imposed in the local courts for this offense. Rose Pilnick, his wife, accused of being the manager of five places, was sentenced to three years' imprisonment. Samuel Popkin and Philip Miller, also convicted for keeping houses of ill-repute, were each sent to the penitentiary for two years. In addition to these, four women inmates of a house were sent to prison for 30 days.

The second shakeup of the Philadelphia police force as a result of orders issued yesterday by Mayor Weaver in the crusade against vice occurred tonight when the entire organizations of two districts were transferred to other sections of the city. The director of the department of public safety promises more changes tomorrow.

The Women's Christian Temperance union has decided to ally itself with Mayor Weaver and the Law and Order society in the crusade.

NEW TROTTING CIRCUIT FORMED

Twelve Tracks Including One in This City Represented-Racing Dates Assigned.

WILL GIVE GOOD PURSES

Representatives from 12 light harness racing associations met at the Colonial hotel yesterday afternoon and organized a new racing circuit which was named the Pittsburgh, Monongahela and Ohio Valley circuit. The minimum purses to be offered are $400. There are to be four days of racing at each track in the circuit, three events each day, with best three-and-five heats. Pittsburgh has the only mile track in the circuit.

The towns in the new circuit are Pittsburgh, Monongahela, Wheeling, Greensburg, Johnstown, Dawson, Beaver Falls, Warren, O., Salem, O., Conneaut Lake, O., East Liverpool, O., and probably Imperial, Pa., if the latter city agrees to give the $400 purses, and Sharon. The latter was not represented.

The officers of the new circuit are: President, J. C. Collins, Monongahela, and secretary and Treasurer, Dr. J. E. Mittinger, Greensburg. The secretaries of racing associations within the circuit were instructed to send to the secretary their classes before May 1 next.

The dates asigned for the season of 1905 are as follows:

Dawson—June 27, 28, 29 and 30; secretary, J. A. Shaffer.

Johnstown—July 4, 5, 6 and 7; secretary, Enoch James.

Greensburg—July 11, 12, 13 and 14; secretary, Dr. J. E. Mittinger.

Monongahela City—July 18, 19, 20 and 21; secretary, J. C. Collins.

Pittsburgh—July 25, 26, 27 and 28; secretary, George F. Fisher, 1411 Boyle street, Allegheny.

Beaver Falls—August 1, 2, 3 and 4; secretary, William S. Cook.

Warren, O.—August 8, 9, 10 and 11; secretary, E. O. Dilley.

Salem, O.—August 15, 16, 17 and 18; secretary, Edward M. Emery.

Week of August 2, open date, which will probably go to Sharon, of which track C. T. Byers of Conneaut Lake, O., will be the probable secretary.

Conneaut Lake—August 29, 30, 31 and September 1; secretary, C. T. Byers.

East Liverpool—September 5, 6, 7 and 8; secretary, Dr. E. McFarland.

Wheeling—September 12, 13, 14 and 15; secretary, George Hook.

Johnstown—September 19, 20, 21 and 22; and probably Imperial, Pa., will also have a meeting on these dates. Secretary of the latter track, H. W. DeLong.

The group of horsemen gathered at the Colonial yesterday were enthusiastic over the racing prospects for the coming season. Besides the secretaries mentioned there was in attendance upon the meeting Dr. S. H. Ralston, representing the Monongahela track; Henry Cochran, president, and Harry Cochran, treasurer of the Dawson track; Harry Boyard, treasure of the Greensburg racing track; Thomas Smith, president of the Beaver Falls track. Also in the group were noticed A. C. Godfrey, T. J. Nevtner of Ottawa, Ill.; Joe Bayliss of Youngstown, O.; Claude L. Jones of Chicago and D. T. Beers of Oil City.

Claude L. Jones is with Smith & Perry, Chicago pool sellers. He was born and raised in Etna and lived in Pittsburgh till a few years ago. He will probably get the pool-selling privileges throughout the new circuit. Mr. Jones said Indianapolis will have a running meeting this year, June 24 to 28. Columbus will also have a running meeting for the first time, the dates being July 10 to 15. The latter city will not have a light harness meeting in July. As Lyman H. Davis, secretary of the Louisville Jockey club, is also secretary of the new Columbus Racing association, Mr. Jones thought that the meetings at Indianapolis and Columbus will be held under the new American Jockey club. Jones has the pool-selling privileges at these meetings.

Secretary Fisher said the only reason that Pittsburgh was not admitted to the Lake Erie circuit was because its track was a mile one and all the others half-mile.

OFF FOR DAY SHOW.

Pittsburghers Will Have Entries and Expect to Carry Off Some Prizes.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Stedman left last night for New York to attend there the coming week the bench show of the Westminster Kennel club. Mrs. Stedman has four Pomeranians entered in the Madison Square Garden show. They will appear in all the regular classes as well as compete for many special prizes and cups. The dogs are Shadyside Billy, Shadyside Goldina, Shadyside Topsy and Shadyside Peggy. They are all of Mrs. Stedman's own breeding except Goldina, which is a recent importation from England. Mr. Maxwell, the English expert, is coming over to judge the "Poms," and the competition this year in this breed is expected to be especially keen.

C. W. Moore, one of the directors of the Duquesne Kennel club, expects to join Mr. Stedman in New York and remain most of the week, where they will secure entries and special attractions for the coming local show.

Another cup was added to the long list of premiums for the Pittsburgh bench show yesterday by the Enterprise Press and Cleaning Company of East Liberty. It will be awarded to the best pair of Pomeranians in Pittsburgh and Allegheny not over 18 months.

CLARENCE PRESTON DEAD.

Famous Amateur Athlete Expires After Illness of Pneumonia.

Preston was a natural-born athlete, but he never became profesional. For five years he was the amateur champion skater of Pennsylvania, forsaking the sport last year. He was identified with the Duquesne Country and Athletic club, playing an end on the football team and shortstop on the baseball team. He played wing on the old Pittsburgh Athletic club hockey team, and in skating he always outclassed his fields. He was a member of the Pittsburgh Field Club cricket and tennis teams; also the golf teams. He belonged to the Oakmont Golf club and was a member of its team. During the Spanish war he served in Porto Rico with Battery B of Pittsburgh.

Preston was secretary of the Preston Coal Company, of which his father, Matthew Preston, is president. He was a member of the Point Breeze Presbyterian church.

FINE RACING COURSE.

One in Cuba in Great Shape for the Sunday Event.

HAVANA, Feb. 10.—All the automobile drivers and other experts who have tested the 50-mile stretch from Marino to San Cristobal to be used in the principal event in the four-day tournament, declare it to be the finest straightaway road course on this side of the Atlantic. In some respects it excels the European roads. Its principal defect is its narrowness, being in some places only 20 feet wide.

Ox-carts interfered considerably with the preliminary trials, but there were no accidents excepting to chickens and dogs. Two hundred mounted rural guards and many bicycle patrols will do everything possible to prevent accidents during Sunday's hundred-mile race, when the stretch will be covered twice. E. R. Thomas' 90-horse power machine is the favorite.

CONKLIN IS CHAMPION.

Chicago Expert Wins the Amateur Billiard Title.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Charles F. Conklin of Chicago is the amateur billiard champion of the United States. The tournament proper which closed last night, left W. H. Sigourney of San Francisco and Conklin tied for first place.

In the extra match played tonight, to decide which of the two players should be the possessor of the cup for the next year, the emblem of the national amateur championship, Conklin defeated the Pacific coast player 300 to 231. In addition to the cup which Conklin will have to win three times at different tournament to be the permanent possessor.

Newman Leaves Floor.

The Newman A. C. was defeated by the Wilmerding Y. M. C. A. basketball team last night in Wilmerding Y. M. C. A. hall 18 to 14. In the last five minutes of play a foul was called on a Newman player for wrestling, and the captain of that team quit, taking his team off the floor. In a preliminary game the Newman Juniors defeated the Y. M. C. A. Juniors 16 to 15. Lineup:

Geneva to Play Champions.

The Geneva college team which is making a strong bid for the intercollegiate championship of Western Pennsylvania, will oppose the champion South Side team at Odd Fellows hall, South Side, tonight. The champions are in a crippled condition and as their opponents are in the best of shape they realize that they will have an excellent chance to repeat last year's performance. Weitzel and Campbell are certain to be out of the game, while it is doubtful whether Nickel will be able to line up in the game, so the champions' chances are not of the brightest.

One Knockout at Smoker.

At Mammoth A. C. in Lawrenceville last night there were bouts between amateurs, as well as professional fighters, and all were well contested. There was one knockout. Mike Lydon putting the quietus to F. Dingfeeder of the East End A. C. in the first round. The show wound up with a battle royal which was amusing.

SOO TEAM EASY FOR PITTSBURGH

Canadians Are Beaten, 9 to 5. Campbell and Sixsmith Do the Scoring.

DUVAL PLAYS STRONG GAME

The Canadian Soo seven was outclassed by Pittsburgh last night in the final game of the series, and lost a fairly interesting game, 9 to 5. The Canadians made a rally in the last half, that had it come in a closer game, might have returned it a winner.

The Soo team displayed poor hockey with the exceptions of Maltman the goal keeper, and Taylor the forward. The latter shot three goals. Maltman had a very poor defense in front of him, through which the Pittsburgh forwards went with apparent ease, but, he nevertheless, made some very pretty stops.

Pittsburgh played well in every department. Duval was back at cover point, and he put up a strong game, as did Sixsmith the forward. Campbell and Sixsmith carried off the honors in shooting goals, each getting four, and in most cases one of the other was instrumental in securing them. Sixsmith was always with the rubber, and Campbell seemed to be at the right spot for a shot.

Jack Winchester, the local goal keeper, stopped several shots that looked like goals. Winchester has been playing a good game at his position in all the games of the series.

The game opened fast and for a while the crowd was treated to fast sport, but it soon became tame, because of the letdown on the part of the visitors. Kent scored early on passes from Sixsmith and Campbell, and Sixsmith followed with a goal from a scrimmage. Taylor got through the defense and shot for the Soo. Roberts and Campbell came up the ice and Sixsmith shot the third goal. Sixsmith got in a long run and Campbell scored, getting another on a pass from Spittal. The half closed with the score 5 to 1 in the local's favor.

Taylor shot from a scrimmage for the Soo, and then Sixsmith negotiated a count in a pass from Campbell. Campbell followed this with a long run for goal and Kent passed to Sixsmith for goal. Clifton and Taylor scored in rapid succession and Ward got another, Collins passing. Campbell shot another and the game was over. The line-up:

Pittsburgh—9.		Soo—5.
Winchester	Goal	Maltman
Spittal	Point	Brown
Duval	Cover point	O'Leary
Sixsmith	Forward	Taylor
Campbell	Center	Clifton
Roberts	Left wing	Ward
Kent	Right wing	Collins

Goals—Campbell 4, Sixsmith 4, Kent, Taylor 3, Ward, Clifton. Referee—Jack.

ON TREACHEROUS TRACK.

Going Still Bad at New Orleans—But One Favorite Was Beaten.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 10.—The track of the New Orleans Jockey club showed no improvement today, and was very heavy with treacherous footing. Bisque, in the first race, and Lady Free Knight, in the second, fell. Both horses and riders escaped injury. Baywood, who tired so badly in the heavy going that he could not stand off Redman's sturdy challenge, was the only beaten favorite. Summary:

First race, 1 mile—Sanction, 105, J. McIntyre, 11 to 5, won; Hershman, 102, Nicol, 12 to 5, second; Bannock Belle, 100, Hetherington, 150 to 1, third. Time, 1:53 3-5.

Second race, 1 mile—Redman, 101, Wishard, 8 to 1, won; Baywood, 103, J. Martin, even, second; Merry Acrobat, 109, Nicol, 13 to 5, third. Time, 1:52.

Third, 4 furlongs—Filatory, 110, Nicol, 3 to 2, won; Chief Archibald, 112, J. Martin, 4 to 1, second; Blue Grass Lad, 109, W. Robbins, 7 to 1, third. Time, :53 2-5.

GOTCH CAN BOX.

The Champion Wrestler Easily Knocked Out a Big Opponent.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 10.—(Special.)—Champion Frank Gotch proved his claim to recognition as a boxer in a real contest this afternoon. Before a few select members of the Buffalo gymnasium Gotch was pitted against Sam Williams, a burly heavyweight from the northwest of Canada, in what was to have been a ten-round try-out bout for Gotch. It took the giant athlete just half the scheduled distance to stop his man, which he did because of his wonderful hitting powers.

The two big fellows had milled four and a half rounds when suddenly Williams weakened. The fifth round was nearly over when Gotch hooked a short right jolt to Williams' jaw. In falling Williams' weight was on his right arm, which twisted under him, spraining the shoulder. The gong rang before he had time to get up.

Buchtel Beats West Virginia.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., Feb. 10.—(Special.)—The Buchtel college five beat West Virginia tonight, 31 to 25. The line-up:

Yale Loses to Columbia.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—(Special.)—Columbia basketball team defeated the Yale five in the former's gymnasium tonight 14 to 12. The game was perhaps the hardest and fastest game ever played in the Columbia gymnasium. The line-up:

Columbia—14.		Yale—12.
Cuthel	Right Forward	Rockwell
Fisher	Left Forward	Carter
Cannon	Center	Hyatt
Von Sholly	Right Forward	Barber
Kinney	Left Guard	Hurley

Goals from field—Cuthel 2, Fisher, Hurley, Kinney, Carter. Gaols from fouls—Fisher 6, Hyatt 8. Points awarded—Yale 1, Columbia 1. Time of halves—20 minutes.

WHAT THE INDEPENDENT PLAYERS ARE DOING

Billy Clay, the good hitting right fielder of last year's Penn Park team, has resigned with that club. Kohley Milley, last year with Rock Island, has been signed to play short stop.

Candidates for the presidency of the Independent association are being announced. Harry Edwards of Cleveland is an avowed candidate. Marty Hogan favors Samuel Wright of Youngstown, and Akron wants Charles Morton. An executive board, however, may take the place of a president. Hogan favors the latter also.

Bill Kommer, the crack Allegheny southpaw pitcher who was with Niles for two years, has a chance to join the Seattle club of the Coast league, managed by Russ Hall. "Too far out, considering the fact that there are lots of good jobs nearer home," says he in declining the offer. Kommer says he will not return to Niles, and has not made up his mind where he will sign. He has several good offers from independent and minor league clubs.

EAST LIBERTY DEFEATED BY PITTSBURGH HIGH

Blue and White Has Basketball Championship Aspiration Shattered. From Other Quarters.

The Pittsburgh High school basketball team beat the East Liberty academy five yesterday afternoon in a championship interscholastic game on the latter's floor, 24 to 13. The game, toward the end, became rough, and East Liberty suffered on penalties. The line-up:

P. H. S.—24.		E. L. A.—13.
Lytle	Forward	Winn
Van Gorder	Forward	Duff
Neudorfer	Center	McCandless
Henning	Guard	Lytle
Worrell	Guard	Chester

Shadyside and Allegheny will meet in an interscholastic hockey game this afternoon at Duquesne garden.

Three skating races this afternoon at 1:30, three hockey games this morning and a fancy dress carnival tonight make up a busy schedule for Friendship Park rink today.

The races are classified as follows: One mile novice, open to all that have never won a prize; half-mile, boys under 14; two-mile, open to all. The entry for these sports will not close till the call of the race.

From 9 to 10, Friendship school will play Bellefield, 10 to 11, B2 meets B4, high school classes, 11 to 12, D5 plays C6.

A. L. Smith, Penn's big fullback, has not been dropped from the university because of conditions received in the recent midyear examination. Smith is not at present attending his classes. He is engaged as a private tutor for some boys and may not return this spring at all.

It rarely happens in college athletics that an athlete in his freshman year is chosen to lead any of the athletic teams, but this tradition was broken at Holy Cross this week, when Michael Riley of Worcester was appointed to captain the track team which will go to the B. A. A. games in Boston Saturday night.

Ralph Rose, the champion weight thrower, has been entered by the Chicago Athletic association in the meet of the Boston Athletic association to be held there tonight. "Rose is now at Warwick, N. Y.," said Everett C. Brown, chairman of the C. A. A.'s athletic committee. "He wrote us for permission to compete at Boston under C. A. A. colors and we consented."

The many guesses that have been made of late as to the probable "make-up" of Penn's 1905 football schedule are interesting to follow. The November schedule, as far as could be learned, will be as follows: November 4, Lafayette, at Franklin field; November 11, Harvard, at Franklin field; November 18, Columbia, at New York; November 25, Indians, at Franklin field; November 30, Cornell, at Franklin field.

The Fifth form team beat the Third form team in a Shadyside Academy interclass basketball game yesterday, 30 to 9.

The Allegheny High school five beat the Allegheny Prep yesterday on the High school floor 34 to 15. After Worcester had scored a field goal and a foul, Albrecht and Weger scored from field for High school, and after this the game was never in danger. Thompson, Weger and Albrecht worked the ball down the floor by nice passing. Albrecht made several sensational shots. "Lefty" Weger, the crack forward, was placed at center for High school. Fredes broke into the game in the second half and held Prep's star forward to no score. For Prep Worcester played a nice game. Score:

A. H. S.—34.		A. P. S.—15.
Thompson	Forward	Reiter
Albrecht	Forward	Sloan, W. Murphy
Weger	Center	Worcester
Penrose	Goal	Tustin
Mason-Fredes	Goal	Ed. Murphy

Field goals—Albrecht 8, Weger 5, Penrose 2, Mason 1, Worcester 3, Reiter 1, M. Murphy 1. Foul goals—Thompson 3, Albrecht 1, Worcester 5. Referees, alternating—Nickel and Fincke.

DROPPED ON TRACK.

Old Soldier Barnes Found His Task Too Sever—Cavanaugh Still Leads.

Gilbert Barnes met with an accident last night while on the track at Old City hall in the six-day race. All day long he had been making a battle with John Craig, who was forcing him for eighth place, which is the lowest prize winning position. At 9 o'clock, when Craig was within a few laps of his score, Barnes fell near his training corner from exhaustion and was picked up unconscious. His hand came in contact with a window in falling and he cut it badly. It was quickly bound up for him by his trainer and nothing serious will come of it. Craig passed him and led him a few laps to the end of the day's work. The race today will start at 12 noon, instead of 10:30 a. m., as previously announced. The score: Patrick Cavanaugh, 311-5; George Metkus, 299-10; Patrick Dineen, 292-19; Peter Hegelman, 291-19; George Cartwright, 290-8; George Klubertanz, 286-19; William Davis, 281-8; John Craig, 277-5; Gilbert Barnes, 275-6; Henry Shelton, 242-2; Tony Losloin, 231-5; Pedlar Craig, 212-6; Martin Geary, 144-17.

MEN OF BRAINS
Are Back of a Local Enterprise.

Few people know that right at our very doors during the last few years the choicest location for a residence community in Allegheny county has been quietly built up with attractive and pleasant homes. In a section comparatively free from smoke, easy of access from the business part of the city, a model town has been laid off. It possesses all of the advantages of being right in the city, as it is so close, but it retains its suburban character and low taxes. It has splendid pavements, all improvements, well lighted streets, good schools, a fine library, social clubs, and, best of all, pure air and a pleasant class of people.

The public now has an opportunity to get the benefit of this delightful place, which has been carefully and slowly brougt to its present state of attractiveness. Knoxville, synonymous with "beautiful," situated high up above the smoke and dirt, on the plateau which overlooks the heart of the city, has unparalleled advantages as a place for residence. Three-minute service on two car lines, only 10 minutes from town through the tunnel, grade schools, high school, churches—every advantage.

The Knoxville Land Improvement Company, as its name implies, has beautified with handsome streets and tasty homes a spot on which nature had already lavished its charms.

The company affords every facility for the selection of a nice home at moderate cost. The monthly payments on houses are about equal to the cost of renting a similar house in other localities.

The Vital Question
Most Names by Which Diseases Are Known Are Merely Technical Terms to Distinguish Slight Differences.

Chronic maladies are due to two conditions: First, to poor blood and disordered circulation; second, to a lack of nervous force and unequal distribution of it. In other words, we may look to the blood and nerves for most of the lingering ills that weaken, plague or wreck human kind. This explains why Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food cures so many diseases that bear distinctive names. It puts the blood and nerves right, and through them the whole system comes right. This concentrated Food is a blood builder, which so improves the vital fluid that it thoroughly nourishes every part of the body. It is also a powerful vitalizer, that gives an abundant store of energy to the nerve centers, which is distributed to every part, according to its needs. Price 50 cents, five boxes, enough to give it a fair trial, $2.00. Weigh yourself before taking it. Book free.

BLOOD DISEASES quickly and forever cured without the use of Mercury or Iodide of Potash, by FLEMING'S SPECIFIC. A few weeks' use of this wonderful preparation will cure the most obstinate case. No matter what you may have used or what disappointments you may have met, Fleming's Specific will cure you, however chronic your trouble. Call or write for circulars. JOS. SOCIETY

On Monday, the anniversary of their fiftieth wedding day, of their elder daughter's twenty-eighth wedding day, of her husband's birthday and of his parents' wedding day, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Stiff will give an evening reception at their home in Bouquet street, Oakland. Mr. Stiff was born 75 years ago in Lancaster, Pa., and crossed the mountains in a stage coach with his sisters, now dead, when he was a mere child. The Stiff connection is not only an old Pennsylvania family, but an early American one as well, as its first members fought in the Revolutionary war. Mrs. Stiff, who is two years her husband's junior, claims Nottingham, England, as her birthplace. She is the daughter of Charles Bird who, with his wife and family, came to New Orleans shortly after their marriage in the British dominion. After a year's residence in New Orleans, the family came to Pittsburgh. Mr. Bird lived to be 83 years of age, while his wife reached her 91st milestone. In the little Second Methodist Protestant church, where all their children have been baptized, and of which the bride was a charter member, Mr. and Mrs. Stiff were married on February 13, 1855, by the late Rev. James Robinson. At the time of his marriage and until 15 years ago, Mr. Stiff was government flour inspector in this city. There are three children in the family, Mrs. George Moore, Mrs. William Fox and Robert Stiff, all of whom reside in Pittsburgh. The grandchildren are Mrs. Mitchell Frey, Frank G. Moore, Amos Stiff Moore, Miss Amelia Moore, George A. Moore and Miss Ruth Moore, Miss Emma Bird Fox, her grandmother's namesake, and Oliver Robert Stiff. All will be in attendance at the celebration on Monday, as will also Mrs. Annie McPherson of New Brighton, Mrs. Stiff's only sister. Both the bride and bridegroom of 50 years ago have been readers of The Gazette all their married life.

"Wup's" Junior Promenade.

The committee in charge includes Wayne McKee, Robert Whyte, E. C. Trax, John Biggert and R. G. Schaefer. The patrons and patronesses are Chancellor and Mrs. Samuel B. McCormick, Dr. and Mrs. John A. Brashear, Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Carhart, Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Phillips, Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Frost, Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Hunter, Dr. and Mrs. S. N. Taylor, Dr. E. B. Huey, Prof. and Mrs. H. S. Scribner, Prof. and Mrs. J. H. Smith, Prof. and Mrs. F. Berger, Prof. C. M. Des Islets, Prof. J. C. Fetterman, Prof. H. C. George, Prof. A. O. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander R. Peacock, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew W. Mellon, Col. and Mrs. H. P. Bope, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Patterson and Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Wilson.

Social Notes from P. C. W.

One of the prettiest dances of the winter was given in Dilworth hall, Pennsylvania College for Women, last evening, with the juniors as the hostesses and the seniors as the honor guests. Miss Mary Ellen Armstrong, Miss Edna McKee and Miss Eleanor Fitzgibbon were house guests at the college over the dance. Numerous cozy corners had been erected in the hall by means of the two class banners, red and white for '05 and orange and white for '06. The programs, with a white background, were embossed with the college monogram in orange, and the little white pencils were tied by yellow cords.

Invitations have been issued for the annual valentine dinner to take place at the college next Friday evening, with the members of the faculty and the resident students as the guests.

The Decade club, II, met yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Edna McKee in Cedar avenue, Allegheny. The club, which has as its president, Miss Anne Houston, is composed of Pennsylvania college girls, graduating from 1900 to 1910. A constitution was adopted at the meeting yesterday afternoon.

Engagement Announced at Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hay of Dithridge street, Bellefield, gave a family dinner at the Hotel Schenley last evening to announce the engagement of their young daughter, Miss Nell Young Hay, and Francis Jacob Myers of Bethlehem, Pa. One of the private dining rooms at the head of the stairs was reserved for the 12 guests. The centerpiece on the table was of daffodils and white lilacs, and as favors for the women there were corsage bouquets of the same flowers. The announcement of the engagement will come as a complete surprise to the many friends of the young people in this city, where Mr. Myers is now visiting. He is a graduate of Lehigh university and a son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Myers of Bethlehem. Miss Hay, it will be remembered, was one of the attendants at the wedding of Miss Grace Watson Aull and Paul Arthur Sorg last summer.

Will Have Four Ushers.

Concordia club society is already talking of the beauty of the wedding of Miss Gertrude Solomon, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kaskell Solomon, and Jacob Bibro, whose engagement was made public in The Gazette some weeks ago. In addition to the bride's attendants, already announced, the bridal party will include the best man, Elias Abrams of Pittsburgh, and the ushers, L. J. Launan, Joseph Attlanger and George W. Goldberg, all of New York, and Joseph Lichtenstein of Cumberland, Md. The Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy will perform the ceremony at 6:30 o'clock in the Concordia club next Wednesday evening.

For a Visitor and a Debutante.

Miss Eleanor Dorrington Mustin's luncheon yesterday afternoon was given in honor of Miss Blanche McCalla of Philadelphia, the house guest of the hostess, and for Miss Eleanor Ayers, a debutante of this winter. Covers were also laid for Miss Juliette Roberts, Miss Edith Grey, Miss Sarah Pfeil, Miss Anna Myra Petty, Miss Gertrude McCandless, Miss Margaret McCandless, Miss May Kleinfelter, Miss Jane Llewellyn and Miss May Llewellyn.

Mrs. Wainwright's Reception.

The reception given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Harris E. Wainwright, Jr., of Dallas and Reynolds avenues, was a charming affair. The hostess and her sister-in-law, Miss Annie Wainwright, received together, assisted by Mrs. J. W. Macfarlane, Mrs. Uriah Tinker, Miss Hattie Wainwright, Mrs. J. G. Splane, Mrs. Edward B. Goehring, Mrs. Hezekiah Nixon Duff, Mrs. W. J. Johnston and Mrs. Lucy McClure of Beaver. The reception from 3 until 6 o'clock was followed in the evening by a smoker and euchre at which Mr. Wainwright and Mrs. Wainwright's brother, Edward Patton, were joint hosts.

Afternoon and Evening at Cards.

A delightful card party was given last evening by Dr. and Mrs. Ewing Wilbur Day at their home in Winebiddle avenue, East End. There was no special guest of honor, and bridge was the game played, enough men and women being present to require the use of five tables. Mrs. Day will follow last evening's entertainment with a larger euchre this afternoon, when 12 tables will be called into play.

Have Recalled Bridge Invitations.

Owing to the serious illness of her aunt, Miss Mary K. Guthrie has recalled the invitations which she had out for a bridge to be given at her home in Ridge avenue, Allegheny, this afternoon. Mrs. Hartley Howard, who was also to have entertained at Miss Guthrie's home in Ridge avenue, has recalled her invitations for Wednesday afternoon for the same reason.

Renewed Old Acquaintances.

Mrs. Lawrence Arnold of Bond street, East End, entertained at cards yesterday afternoon, the affair being given to renew the 14 acquaintances of the hostess, who has been absent from the city for several months past. Six-hand euchre was the game played at four tables, the prizes going to Miss Sarah McCandless, Miss Florence Davis and Miss Grace Taylor.

Engagement and March Wedding.

Mrs. Josephine Schmidt of Center avenue, East End, has formally announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Corinne Schmidt, and George W. Glassburn, the engagement to terminate in a wedding on Tuesday, March 7. Mr. Glassburn is identified with the Equitable Life Assurance society. He is a member of the Keystone Bicycle club.

Notes of Society.

Under the auspices of the Shakespeare club a Valentine party was held last evening at the South Side branch of the Young Women's Christian association.

Palm readings furnished a novelty at a fancy work party given yesterday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock by Mrs. Frank McKinnie at her home in Sewickley. There were about 50 guests.

The Juvenile Mission band of the Sixth Presbyterian church, Squirrel Hill, gave a Japanese entertainment in the church rooms last evening. The Rev. J. Shane Nicholls is pastor of this church.

An "Old Folks' Concert" will be given by the Young Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Smithfield Street Methodist Episcopal church on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. F. L. Pfarr in Walnut street, East End.

AMONG THE CLUBS

Miss Jessie Harding of Chicago will read "A Man Without a Country" before the members of the Daughters of the American Revolution this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The reading has a musical setting and Miss Elizabeth McNally of Pittsburgh will accompany the speaker. After the program, which will occupy about an hour, Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon will entertain the members at an informal reception and tea. She has asked the members of the board of management of the Pittsburgh chapter to assist her, which board includes Miss Julia M. Harding, Miss Pauletta Guffey, Mrs. William Foster, Mrs. Edwin F. Earle, Mrs. Joseph M. Marsh, Miss Beulah Kennard, Mrs. Robert T. Reineman, Mrs. Dexter J. Thayer, Mrs. William D. Hamilton, Mrs. Edward B. Scull and Mrs. William H. Baltzell. This social meeting is in celebration of Washington's birthday.

"The Women of Dixie Land."

"The Women of Dixie Land" was the subject for discussion at the regular meeting of the Woman's Southern society held yesterday. Mrs. Henry Jones Ford presided and Mrs. M. C. Wolfe was leader. The program was opened with plantation songs. Mrs. Hooff read a paper on "Southern Women in Colonial Days," and Mrs. Clarence Renshaw spoke of "Southern Women in War Times." Mrs. Ford played Beethoven's "Sonota Pathetique" and also gave a reading, "Old Times in Dixie Land." Mrs. Leon Thurston read "The Ole Missus." Mrs. H. Talbot Peterson, a contralto, sang several numbers, among them "A Song of Waiting" by Ellen Wright; "The Night Has a Thousand Eyes" by Metcalfe, and "Roses in June," by Clifton Bingham. Mrs. Anton Burchard played a piano number. The next meeting will be on February 24 and "George Washington—Southerner" will be the subject for the day.

Juvenile Court Work.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Mothers and Teachers' Co-operative association, which met yesterday, juvenile court work was the topic for discussion. Mrs. Alexander, one of the probation officers of Pittsburgh, gave a talk. Prof. Thomas D. Sensor of the Howard school also gave an address on the same subject. The club decided to donate $15 to this work. The musical program consisted of songs by Mr. and Mrs. Bitner. Little Miss Helen Clark, who is only four years old, also recited. Tea was served after the program. The officers of this organization include Mrs. T. C. Van Kirk, president; Miss X. Lang, vice president; Miss McRae, secretary, and Mrs. T. T. Sleeson, treasurer.

Officers Elected.

A large and well attended meeting of the Keystone chapter of the Daughters of American Pioneers was held on Thursday at the home of Mrs. J. Bailey. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Henry J. Bailey, regent; Mrs. Thomas Fleeson, vice regent; Mrs. Alfred E. Clarke, recording secretary; Mrs. John Musgrave, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Albert W. McCloy, treasurer; Miss Margaret Rickey, historian; Mrs. George E. Hopkins, curator. Miss Gertrude Avayda Guffey, vice president general of this state, will serve on the executive board of the national society. After the business meeting the club discussed "Reminiscences of Pioneer Days." A social hour followed.

China Discussed.

The Woman's club which met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Kate Foster in Washington avenue discussed China, its people, customs and conditions. Mrs. Minnie O. Roberts gave a talk on current events as did also Mrs. John Snodgrass. The papers were, "The People of China," by Mrs. Cyrus B. Hatch; "China, the Country," by Mrs. B. Over, and "The Present Conditions" by Mrs. Scauffer. Mrs. W. W. Booth had charge of the musical program. Miss Foster, the daughter of the hostess, sang several numbers and Mrs. Myers played. The club will celebrate Washington's birthday with a handsome evening affair at the home of Mrs. H. H. Lee.

Ben Avon Field Club.

The two farces, "A Pretty Piece of Business" and "Found in a Four-Wheeler," presented by the Ben Avon field club last evening in the Ben Avon school hall drew a large audience. The casts of characters included the Misses Valena MacKenzie, Miss May Dyer, Miss Etta M. Eyster, Miss Elizabeth Whitmarsh, Miss Eleanor MacKenzie and Edward Flaccus, Joseph Robb, G. T. Parmley and C. Walter Trust. The proceeds are for the funds of the Field club.

New French Class.

A class for beginners in French will be opened under the auspices of the Business Women's club at its rooms, 610 Arch street, Allegheny, on Tuesday evening, February 14, at 7 o'clock. This class as well as that already in progress will be conducted by Prof. Louis Le Febvre.

Farmington Society Meets.

The regular monthly meeting of the Farmington Aid society was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. Charles C. Scaife in Western avenue. Miss Cooper, the visiting nurse, reported her work among the poor and their wants during this cold weather.

Very Few Wells Being Completed, and None of Great Consequence

There was nothing sensational in the developments in the lower southwest fields. Very few wells are being completed in any of the districts and none of any great consequence. On McElroy fork of Indian creek, McElroy district, Tyler county, F. G. Bish & Company have drilled their test on the W. R. McIntyre farm through the Gordon, and found that formation barren. When the Big Injun was drilled through a light showing of oil was encountered and they will probably give it a test at that level. On Big run, same district, the Philadelphia Company recently completed a light gasser in the Gordon on the J. E. Spencer farm.

In the Yellow creek district, Calhoun county, the Guaranty Oil Company has drilled its No. 9 on the M. M. Sommers farm into the Berea grit, and has a show for a 75-barrel producer at that level. This location is 500 feet northwest of No. 8, on the same farm. Northeast of the Yellow creek district, one-half mile, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the J. W. Heffner farm through the Berea grit and found nothing in that formation. When this test was drilled through the Maxon sand a very nice show of oil was developed and it will be tested in that formation. It will make a small pumper. The same company's No. 6 on the H. I. Jackson farm stands alone as the only well in the district producing as much as 100 barrels a day.

On the east side of the Folsom district, near Wallace, Harrison county, the South Penn Oil Company is drilling in the Gordon at its test on the H. R. Dawson farm. No oil or gas has been encountered in that formation. At five feet in the stray a light show of oil was developed but it was not sufficient to make a paying producer. In the Folsom district, same county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 4 on the Alva Robinson farm 40 feet into the stray sand, and has developed no oil or gas.

West of Mannington, Marion county, the Boswell Oil Company has not drilled its test on the John Board farm any deeper. The hole has filled up 2,000 feet with fluid and the well is expected to improve when drilled deeper. The old producers show very little change in their production. The Cass-Marion Oil Company's Nos. 1 and 2 on the Sarah Metz farm are holding up at 110 and 135 barrels, respectively. Trees & Benedum's Nos. 1 and 2 on the J. L. Holden farm are still holding at 225 barrels a day. The South Penn Oil Company's Nos. 2 and 6, C. S. Pitzer, and No. 1, J. L. Beatty farms, are producing 107, 90 and 190 barrels, respectively. The last named is now the best producer in the development.

In the Fairview district the South Penn company's No. 1 on the Andrew Conway farm is holding up at 150 barrels, and at Littleton and Smithfield the same company's No. 7 on the S. Newman and Alfred Batson No. 2 are producing 195 and 115 barrels respectively. On Middle Island creek, Ellsworth district, Tyler county, M. D. Haynes has completed and put to pumping his No. 3 on the M. Keller farm and has a five-barrel producer from the Keener. Near Murphytown, Wood county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the George O'Brien farm into the Berea grit, and has a show for a 10-barrel pumper.

On the Ohio side, near Hammondsville, Jefferson county, George A. Frink has completed No. 6 on his own farm and has a duster in the Berea grit. He is starting No. 7 on the same farm. North of Knoxville, same county, Duff Brothers & Company have completed a test on the J. H. Cooper farm and have a duster in the Berea grit.

At Macksburg, Washington county, Longfellow's Gordon sand producer is holding up at 45 barrels a day, and pumping daylight tours. The production at no time since the well was drilled deeper and put to pumping has fallen below that point.

BOOM IN STEEL STOCKS THE MARKET'S FEATURE

Tennessee Coal & Iron Sold at the Highest Price in Five Years—Railroad Shares Steady. Local Market Also Firmer.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

A boom in the steel stocks was the feature of the New York market yesterday. The overwhelming vote in the house for the bill regulating railroad rates was, in the opinion of Wall street, likely to have an influence in the senate and there was not the same degree of certainty that no legislation would pass this session of congress on the subject. For that reason professional traders were disposed to shift their operations from the railroad list to the industrials until it could be seen what the senate would do with the railroad bill next week. As a consequence of this attitude on the part of the larger professional traders railroad stocks declined slightly during the early dealings, despite higher London quotations. The decline, however, appeared to be more on account of neglect than any pressure to sell, and later in the session the railroad list became firm and recovered the early loss.

The strongest and one of the most active of the industrials was Tennessee Coal and Iron. The stock opened firm at 76¼, and on enormous buying by a house which is identified with the controlling interest, the stock rose to and closed with the final sale at 81⅛, the highest for five years. The rise during the final moments of the market was very rapid, the dealings large and considerable excitement prevailed. Republic Iron and Steel, which has been inactive for several weeks past, became prominent in the dealings. The common advanced to 18½ and closed at the top, the highest price since 1903. Republic preferred advanced 5 per cent to 76, and closed at the best, which is also the highest since 1903. A report was current during the day that a closer relationship between these two companies was under consideration, but a more effective report was that the company was likely to resume dividends this spring. United States Steel common and preferred were active and strong, the former advancing to 31⅛ and the latter to 95, which, taking into account the dividend which came off this week, is the highest since 1902. Amalgamated Copper was moderatively active and firm, advancing to 74¾ and closing at a net gain of 1 per cent for the day. Federal Smelting made new high records, the common advancing to 90¼ and the preferred to 90¾, representing net gains of 5 and 3 per cent respectively.

The net changes in the railroad list were small, the most important being an advance of ½ per cent in Union Pacific, which was regarded as significant because of the enormous profit-making that has occurred in the stock this week. Net declines in the railroads did not exceed ¼ per cent. The tractions were also firmer and closed higher.

Forecasts of today's bank statement indicated a loss of between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000 in cash, although the exports of gold for the week were not so large as expected. Call loan rates remained easy and unchanged.

Dealings on the Pittsburgh stock exchange were double the total for the preceding day and the tone of the market was firmer. The steel stocks were active in sympathy with the movement in the east and closed strong and higher. Crucible common rallied to 12⅛ and the preferred to 64⅛, and both closed at the best. National Fire Proofing common rallied a fraction to 11, but closed offered at 10⅞. The preferred declined to and closed at 33. Pittsburgh Coal common advanced to 21½ and the preferred to 80⅛, despite the fact that the showing made in the annual report was fully as unfavorable as expected. Monongahela River Coal preferred was firm, advancing to 28⅝ bid. Pittsburgh Oil and Gas rallied to 68, and Light and Heat was a fraction higher at 38⅛. Philadelphia Company was more active than for some time past and closed at 42⅝. Westinghouse Airbrake declined to and closed offered at 144. There were no sales of Electric, which closed at 89¾ bid. A small lot of Continental Trust sold at 100, an advance of 20 points over the last previously posted sale, and a block of 106 shares Fort Pitt National Bank changed hands at 230.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Pittsburgh Coal stocks were a little firmer yesterday, although the showing made in the annual report was fully as bad as expected. It is possible that the firmness was due to shorts buying to cover. For some time past a bearish feeling has prevailed on the coal stocks, because it was known that the company would make a poor showing for the year, and it was argued that when this appeared there would be selling of investment holdings. Apparently the cut in net earnings from $6,751,023 in 1903 to $3,577,682 in 1904 had been discounted, just as a similar reduction in the earnings of United States Steel for the same period had been discounted. In the case of Steel, the quarterly earnings prepared the public for the showing for the entire year, and the improvement of the December quarter over the October quarter and over the corresponding quarter for the preceding year revealed the fact that the turn in trade had come and that business was on the up-grade. Possibly if Pittsburgh Coal had made a separate report for each quarter the change in trade conditions would appear as striking as in the case of United States Steel. The Coal figures, however, prove very clearly that if the company had begun the payment of dividends in 1903, as was confidently looked for that year, it would have been compelled to suspend them in 1904, because the surplus for the latter year amounted to only $159,941, the smallest surplus since the organization of the company.

Crucible Steel common and preferred advanced on the buoyancy of this class of stocks in Wall street. The market for the iron and steel stocks has been rather slow to respond to the decided improvement in the iron trade, but they made rapid progress yesterday.

"The New York Air Brake Company reports that its January shipments showed the largest month's output in the company's history. Its present volume of business is more than double that of last year." The foregoing, published in New York yesterday, was cited as the cause for the slight weakening in Westinghouse Air Brake, which declined to and was offered at 144. There were no transactions in New York Air Brake.

A block of 106 shares Ft. Pitt National bank changed hands at 230, which was unchanged from the last previous sale. Gariner sold to Lawrence & Co.

Local mining shares were rather heavy. Ohio Tonopah declined to 35c, the lowest quoted since the listing of the stock, and Tonopah Extension closed offered at $5.50, the price at which a block of 2,000 shares was bought last week by inside interests.

The recent strength in United States Realty Improvement, which advanced yesterday to 90, is based upon a report that the company will secure the contract for the improvements that will be made to the Grand Central station in New York.

Great Northern preferred advanced from 265 to 272½, closing at the top, the highest price for years.

The directors of the Railway Steel Spring Company will meet in March to take action on the dividend on the common stock. Leading interests in the company favor declaring the same amount on the common as was paid last year, namely, 2 per cent.

The board of directors of the American Railways Company have declared a quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on the capital stock, payable March 15 to stockholders of record February 28.

The short session of the markets today will be the last until Tuesday, banks and exchanges being closed on Monday.

Moore & Schley were credited with purchases of 25,000 shares Tennessee Coal and Iron yesterday. Jacob Field was a heavy buyer of United States Steel common.

The copper trade since January 1 has been disappointing. Europe is now receiving shipments of copper which cost 13c, 13½c and 14c a pound, and consumers there show a disinclination to buy at 15¼c. Domestic consumers are not buying any more than necessary to cover immediate needs. This situation, however, may change in a day. The producers are well sold ahead, and are not at all anxious as to the future. China is primarily responsible for the 15c copper market. That country has purchased a total of 40,000 long tons of copper in this country and 20,000 long tons from Australia, a total of 134,400,000 pounds, and it was this unexpected demand, never before a factor of moment in this country, that was responsible for the high metal prices.

Mr. Lawson made a little squeak in Amalgamated Copper yesterday, but the stock and the market paid no attention to it.

To help along the advance in the Steel stock it was announced yesterday that the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company had advanced galvanized sheets $2 a net ton, blue annealed sheets $1 a net ton, and galvanized corrugated roofing 10 cents a square. Ordinary sheets and painted corrugated roofing as well as tin plates are not changed for the present, but advances in these lines are expected to follow shortly.

Gross earnings of Wabash for the fourth week in January increased $56,215.

The results of the operations of the Brooklyn rapid transit system for the year ending December 31, 1904, were as follows: Gross earnings from operation, $15,459,099; operating expenses, $9,261,915; net earnings, $6,197,744; income from other sources, $237,141; total income, $6,434,885; less taxes and fixed charges, $4,961,614; net income for year, $1,473,271; surplus, December 31, 1903, $2,657,726; total surplus, $4,130,997; of this amount there has been appropriated for discount on bonds sold, $1,133,200; for old accounts adjusted, $3,622; for additions and betterments, $844,209; total $2,003,761; balance surplus, December 31, 1904, $2,127,236.

Wall street had some rumors pointing to a distressed short interest of long standing being closed out, especially in the iron and steel stocks. But the strength in this group was more plausibly explanative by the persistent rumors in circulation that an old standing project had been revived for the consolidation of the leading independent companies of the southern region. Tennessee Coal, Republic Steel and Sloss-Sheffield Steel were immediately indicated. Reports of the flotation of a bond issue to take care of short time notes by Republic Steel and an assumption that provision would be made out of the proceeds for the accrued dividends on the preferred stock were potent factors in that stock.

The vigorous steps taken to contest the diversion of export grain traffic to the gulf ports is an index of the serious view taken of the situation by the Atlantic ports and of the determination with which the contest is liable to be conducted.

A loss in cash of upwards of $6,000,000 by the New York banks is indicated by the preliminary estimates of the currency movement, but this is wholly due to the exports of gold and to the special requirement in connection with the Chicago Street Railway transaction of late last week. On the regular express movement to and from the interior the balance was still largely in favor of New York. The money market continued very easy and gave no evidence of a diminution of the supply of available credits. The heavy receipts of national bank notes for current redemption at the treasury in Washington is an example of the force of the reflux from the circulation. The amount of these notes received for current redemption thus far this month, which includes eight working days, has already reached $10,409,706. Meantime there is no disposition on the part of the banks to retire this incoming circulation. With the available supply of government bonds increased by the relapse of those recently held to secure the government deposits which have been called in, the tendency is still toward expansion of bank note circulation. It is urged that this is a factor in the evident redundancy of the currency and the continued free outflow of gold.

MARKET MAKES GOOD ITS RECENT DECLINES

Feature of the Day Was the Strength and Activity of the Iron and Steel Issues.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—The Herald this (Saturday) morning says: Stocks were generally well maintained yesterday. Practically all the standard and representative issues recovered all or nearly all of Thursday's decline, and a few of these made fractional advances. There was decidedly more activity in the industrial division, and a number of properties, chiefly the iron and steel shares, were bid up sharply.

The movement in this quarter was regarded as of professional order, and part of the advance was accompanied by resorting to the venerable "stock jobbing" trick of reporting a "prominent operator," name not known, to be heavily short of a large line of stocks. Business was again very poorly distributed, and there were no signs of increasing public participation in the market. The character of the manipulative methods, in quite a number of issues, were, in fact, well calculated to alarm rather than encourage a suspicious public.

Very little developed in the way of actual news, such features as did come to light were not of a nature calculated to have any marked influence on the market one way or another. The general dullness and apathy in railroad stocks was attributed to the passage of the railway rate control bill by the house, and the upbidding of industries was naturally regarded as a maneuver to divert attention from this feature.

London prices yesterday did not decline as extensively as they did at Thursday's New York closing, and in consequence came somewhat higher. Foreigners traded on both sides of the account, buying a trifle on balances.

The local market opened with some of the reactionary tendencies of Thursday's closing. The bull clique, however, immediately took hold of the local traction issues and followed these up by aggressive manipulative buying of Tennessee Coal & Iron, Republic Iron & Steel, United States Steel and affiliated iron and coal properties. The tactics of the professional party were rewarded. The market held strong, but activity was confined to the special groups, and the general railway list continued dull. There was considerable irregularity near the close, under profit taking, but the steel issues held their own and were bid up under very active trading. Business of the day was very poorly distributed.

The feature of the day was the strength and activity of the iron and steel stocks. In point of activity United States Steel issues were the leaders, but the gain in that quarter, though satisfactory, was trifling compared to the 5⅛ point gain in Tennessee Coal & Iron, and that of 5⅛ in Republic Iron & Steel preferred. Colorado Fuel, Sloss-Sheffield Steel & Iron and the railway equipment concerns all moved in sympathy with the iron and steel issues.

The movement in United States Steel has long been predicted, and the stock has been repeatedly "tipped" in recent days. The movement was unattended by any specific news, and was regarded as of pool origin. The rumor of a combination of southern properties was again in circulation, but it was not taken seriously.

IS STRANGELY MISSING.

William F. Clark Disappears—Wore Valuable Jewelry When Last Seen.

Mystery surrounds the disappearance of William F. Clark, aged 37, of 4929 Mayflower street, East End, who was last seen on Monday night. Clark was a bartender for his father, Thomas Clark, proprietor of the Hotel Alexander, Twenty-sixth street and Penn avenue, and was a man of temperate habits, and a total abstainer.

Monday night he closed the bar of the hotel, and, after going over the accounts for the day, left the building shortly after midnight. He had considerable money, a gold watch and two diamond rings when last seen. He has a wife and three children. No reason can be assigned for his disappearance. The police have been notified.

The Wool Market.

BOSTON, Feb. 10.—Concerning the wool market the Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say: The market continues dull and somewhat depressed. Very few buyers are operating and only small lots are being sold. As usual on a quiet prices favor buyers and for the first time since last July some changes in a lower direction are made in our list of quotations. Foreign wools continue to accumulate, about the only movement in them being in deliveries of wools bought on manufacturing orders. All the large users are well supplied. Reports from the wool industry are favorable and machinery was never so well occupied, but influential factors are well covered with raw material. The shipments of wool from Boston to date from December 29, 1904, according to the same authority are 28,988,767 pounds, against 29,335,296 pounds at the same period last year. The receipts to date are 30,982,588 pounds, against 17,886,178 pounds for the same period last year.

BUILDING LEASED BEFORE ERECTED

Site Not Cleared, Yet Greater Part of Future Structure Already Rented.

DINWIDDIE STREET SALES

The stiff demand for good buildings downtown was again evidenced yesterday by the leasing of the greater part of the structure which the D. C. Irish estate will erect in the spring at Penn avenue and Eighth street. Two leases were made through the office of Avey & Irish, although the site has not been cleared yet, and negotiations are now well under way which will likely result in the leasing of the remainder of the building this month. To the firm of George Wehn, Son & Co., dealers in carpets, there was leased the corner store room, measuring 22x110 feet, on the first floor, and the entire space, 45x110 feet, on the second, third and fourth floors. The lease runs for six years and the total rental for this period will be $56,250. The other lease was made to Morris Levino, the wholesale hat merchant, who recently sold his property at 803 Liberty avenue for $110,000. Mr. Levino has leased the entire fifth and sixth floors for a period of three years, the rental for this time being $11,200. The building will be ready for occupancy October 1.

Seven brick houses belonging to Murphy & Hamilton, on the west side of Dinwiddie street, near Center avenue, were sold yesterday to Charles L. Young, the Fifth avenue druggist. The dwellings are rather old buildings and contain five rooms each. They occupy 120x100 feet and bring in a total rental of about $126 a month. The price paid was $18,000.

Nineteenth Ward Property Sold.

W. B. Newton has sold to Carrie M. Parker the property at 814-824 Collins avenue, between Hoeveler and Station streets, Nineteenth ward, for $30,000. The property is in two lots, one measuring 45x122 feet and the other 45x81 feet. They are improved with brick buildings.

It develops that the exact price paid for the Emanuel Wertheimer property in Thomas street, which was traded toward the Akron apartments recently, was only $25,000. The plot is 140x276 feet and is improved with a good residence. John McSorley gets title to this property.

J. Donovan has sold to James M. Clark a residence property, 18x110 feet, at the southwest corner of Broad street and Collins avenue, Nineteenth ward, for $13,000.

Figures compiled by the Construction News of Chicago show that building operations in the United States made a gain of 83 per cent in January over the corresponding month of 1904. Twenty-seven of the leading cities showed a total of 5,187 buildings authorized, the estimated cost of which was $24,964,651. Nineteen of the 27 cities show gains of from 21 to 887 per cent. New York had a gain of 299 per cent, Louisville 887 per cent, Indianapolis 328 per cent, Pittsburgh 240 per cent, Cleveland 139 per cent, Allegheny 135 per cent and San Francisco 107 per cent. The total number of permits issued during the month in Pittsburgh was 109, calling for an expenditure of $795,822.

Architects E. J. Carlisle & Co. are taking bids on the improvements planned for the Carnegie library at Braddock. These include baths, gymnasium and increased room for reading quarters. The changes will cost $14,000.

STAPLES HOLD FIRM IN THE LOCAL MARKET

Eastern Coffee Prices Dropping, But Figures Remain Steady in Pittsburgh.

In spite of the rich expectations of all buyers, every line in the local market held firm yesterday. Coffee, which has slid off 10 or 15 points in New York, refused to budge in this market and flour and sugar also held their own. The market is not likely to change now until next week.

There is a feeling of uncertainty about these commodities and retailers are only buying what they need from day to day or week to week to avoid getting caught heavily should the market strike a downward tendency after they have laid in a stock. This kind of buying tends to make business a little dull, but it is making it safe, and that is one good feature about it. The man who is only keeping in stock will be a heavy buyer when the markets settle again.

Eggs were firmer yesterday on account of the cold weather and the prediction of zero on its way. There are but few storage eggs in market now, and local dealers are refusing to buy them. One dealer said yesterday that there are not 10,000 cases of storage eggs in all Chicago, the egg center, and just about the same number of fresh. Ten thousand cases is just enough to supply the city of New York for one week, and the rest of the country will have to look elsewhere for its eggs if New York takes a notion it wants these. But there is a general weakening of the market. Eggs were offered yesterday for next week's delivery at 30 cents, but local dealers refused to buy. One man said if he bought and cold weather continued he would double his money and be considered smart. If it turned in warm he would lose 5 or 10 cents a dozen and be considered a bad weather prophet. He preferred not to buy and save his reputation.

Produce is very quiet this week, not enough business being transacted to warrant any changes in quotations. Buyers are indifferent and the receipts of fruit and produce are light, owing to the lax demand. It will take warmer weather to put life into this market.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts of hay and grain yesterday were as follows: Pennsylvania, 13 cars hay, 12 cars corn, 7 cars oats, 1 car rye, 5 cars straw, 3 cars feed; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 1 car hay, 1 car oats; Baltimore & Ohio, 5 cars corn, 2 cars hay, 1 car straw.

Good grades of hay are wanted at top prices quoted. The inferior article is difficult to quote as the market is overstocked. Oats are selling at less than the lay down cost, and in all reason should go up soon. Ear corn is in plentiful supply and sales a little draggy. Shelled is about even as to supply and demand. Mill feed is dull and neglected. Wheat straw remains about the same as it has been for a couple of weeks. In quoting hay there is a grade that is called a "liner," which is not quite good enough for No. 1 timothy and too good for No. 2. This will sell for 25 to 50 cents over No. 2 in price. Rye is doing well and the price remains firm at present quotation.

STAPLES FINISHED ALL AT SAME MARK

They Closed at Almost Identically the Final Figures of the Preceding Day.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—A unique finish was witnessed in the trading pits on the board of trade today. The entire list of staples—wheat, corn, oats and provisions—closed at almost identically the final figures of the previous day. Otherwise the session was nearly as featureless as a billiard ball.

Lower cables and increased shipments from Argentine tended to give the wheat market an easy tone. May opened unchanged to ⅛c lower at $1 16⅛@1 16¼. July was unchanged to ⅛c lower, at $1 00⅞@1 00¾. From the start trading was very light. The bulk of business was done by commission houses. Pit traders ostensibly were bearish, but professed to be restrained by the fear of some sudden demonstration by New York speculators. According to a report by a St. Louis trade paper, most of the fall-sown wheat is amply covered with snow, insuring full protection from severe cold weather. The Michigan crop report also was bearish. As a result May sold off to $1 15¾ and July to $1 00⅛. Buying by shorts caused a temporary rally, May advancing to $1 16⅜@1 16½ and July to $1 00⅞@1 01. Smallness of primary receipts had some influence in the upturn. Cold weather in the west and northwest partly accounted for the decreased arrivals. The market soon eased off again, but the close was fairly steady. Compared with prices of last night, July is unchanged at $1 00⅜, while May finished ⅛c up at $1 16⅛. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 42,400 bushels. Exports for the week, as shown by Bradstreet's, were 253,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 368,000 bushels, compared with a holiday last year. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 216 cars, against 228 cars last week.

Influenced by firm cables and smaller shipments from Argentina the corn market held steady the entire day. The market was upheld to some extent by slightly higher prices paid for cash grain. May opened unchanged to a shade lower at 45⅜@45¼c to 45½c, sold between 45¼c and 45⅝c and closed at 45⅜@45½c. Local receipts were 235 cars, with one of contract grade.

Covering by shorts imparted a firm undertone to the oats market. A message from Minneapolis stating that a 10,000-ton lot of oats had been sold there, billed to Manila, but thought to be for Japan, was the main factor in the situation. May opened unchanged to a shade higher, at 29⅞c to 30⅛@30⅛c, sold up to 30⅜c and closed at the top. Local receipts were 67 cars.

Provisions were firm at the outset as a result of light receipts of live hogs. Longs and commission houses were fair sellers, however, resulting in slight recessions. The market closed steady with May pork off a shade at $12 87½@12 90. Lard and ribs were each unchanged at $6 92½ and $6 87½@6 90, respectively.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 35 cars; corn, 221 cars; oats, 96 cars; hogs, 20,000 head.

NEW YEAR FULFILLING SANGUINE PROPHECIES

Manufacturing Is Still the Best Feature in Business World, Especially in Iron and Steel.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

Some disturbance has been caused by the elements, but business conditions are otherwise unusually satisfactory for the season. Distribution of merchandise is of liberal proportions and the new year is fulfilling sanguine expectations. Low temperature and storms interrupted traffic to some extent, but accelerated business in heavy wearing apparel, overshoes and fuel. Manufacturing is still the best feature, especially in the various departments of the iron and steel industry, while textile mills and shoe shops are well engaged. Some conservatism is noted in the placing of advance orders, but this is a favorable symptom, indicating the absence of reckless operations that produce inflated prices and ultimately cause excessive accumulation of stocks, followed by the inevitable period of retrenchment. Gradual progress is always more permanent, and the present situation contains this wholesome element to a pronounced degree. Liberal consumption of commodities is evidenced by the slight rise in Dun's Index Number from $100,318 to $101,042 during January. Railway earnings in that month were 4.04 per cent larger than in 1904, while foreign commerce at this port for the last week showed a gain of $1,070,870 in value of imports and a loss of $1,840,563 in exports, as compared with the same week last year.

Favorable reports are received from almost every department of the iron and steel industry, even steel rails sharing the better feeling, orders on the books now exceeding 1,000,000 tons. The advancing season is bringing out more demand for structural shapes, while specifications on contracts for plates kept the mills busy. Notwithstanding the firmer tone of the raw material, several varieties of cotton goods have been reduced, and the market developed much irregularity. Instead of stimulating business, as expected, the concessions have caused buyers to act with increased conservatism. Purchasers are still limited to urgent requirements.

Hides have ruled fairly steady, native steers constituting the bulk of offerings. Arrivals of foreign dry hides are readily absorbed at full prices. Business in leather is expanding.

Failures for the week numbered 256 in the United States, against 228 last year, and 27 in Canada, compared with 25 a year ago.

Bradstreet's will say tomorrow:

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ended February 9 are 87,775 bushels, against 945,358 last week, 1,746,265 this week last year, 2,856,439 in 1903, and 3,175,481 in 1902. From July 1 to date the exports are 41,044,908 bushels, against 103,097,599 last year, 153,814,977 in 1903 and 168,797,032 in 1902.

Corn exports for the week are 2,448,456 bushels, against 5,302,502 last week, 588,362 a year ago, 1,830,170 in 1903 and 527,368 in 1902. From July 1 to date the exports of corn are 35,692,162 bushels, against 35,470,950 in 1904, 24,566,039 in 1903 and 21,064,537 in 1902.

Foreign Money Markets.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Money was in considerable demand in the market today, which was stock exchange pay day. Supplies were scarce in consequence of the collection of government revenue, continuance of which to the end of March will denude the market. Discounts were tolerably firm, the monetary stringency preventing a slackening of rates. There was much uncertainty regarding the future. The cheapness of bar gold permits the Bank of England to obtain fresh arrivals resulting in a further accumulation of bullion. Prices on the stock exchange were firm in places. The cheerfulness of gilt-edged securities on the strength of the bank return and the monetary outlook sustained home securities generally. The market closed quieter and somewhat irregular. Consols were strong and home rails were in good demand. Americans opened dull and irregular, rallied mostly to over-parity, kept generally steady and inactive and closed quiet. Grand Trunk, which was the liveliest section, hardened at first and eased later on realizations, though the increase in traffic exceeded the estimates by $17,000. Japanese improved. Imperial Japanese government 6s of 1904 were quoted at 102. Colombians hardened on a report that Panama is prepared to accept a proportion of the foreign debt. Consols for money, 89 5-16. Consols for account, 89 7-16. Bar silver steady, 28⅛d an ounce. Money, 2½@3 per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for short bills is 2⅝ per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for three months' bills is 2½@2⅝ per cent.

PARIS, Feb. 10.—Trading on the bourse today was quiet but prices were firm. Russian Imperial 4s were quoted at 90.60, and Russian bonds of 1904 at 505. The private rate of discount was 2 7-16 per cent. Three per cent rentes, 99 francs 70 centimes for the account. Exchange on London, 25 francs 17½ centimes for checks.

BERLIN, Feb. 10.—Prices on the boerse today generally were unchanged. Discount rates: Short bills, 1½ per cent; three months' bills, 1⅞ per cent.

Banks and the Treasury.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—(Special.)—In redemption of checks drawn by depositors of gold at the San Francisco assay office, today's official records show that the sub-treasury paid out yesterday $7,226. Total thus paid since Friday, $169,469. Total payment by government to New York banks for the day, $3,276,000. Payment by banks to government, $3,360,000. Balance on the day's transactions, $84,000 paid by banks to government. Total net payment by banks to government since Friday, $3,421,000, against $958,000 similarly paid for the corresponding period a week ago.

New York Money Market.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Money on call steady at 1¾@2 per cent; closing bid, 1¾ per cent; offered at 2 per cent; time loans steady; 60 days and 90 days, 3 per cent; six months, 3¼ per cent; prime mercantile paper, 3¾@4¼ per cent; sterling exchange firm, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4 87.35@4 88 for demand and at $4 85.60 for 60 days' bills; posted rates, $4 86½ and $4 89; commercial bills, $4 85⅝; bar silver, 61½c; Mexican dollars, 47½c; government bonds steady; railroad bonds irregular.

FINANCIAL AND TRADE NOTES.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 10.—(Special.)—The American Sheet and Tin Plate Company has advanced galvanized sheets $2 a ton net, blue annealed sheets $1 a ton net, and galvanized corrugated roofing 10 cents a square.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The Republic Iron and Steel Company will shortly issue $19,000,000 5 per cent first mortgage bonds, part of which will be used to pay $6,300,000 in short term notes which the company issued a year ago. It is understood that Blair & Co. will take the entire issue.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—National bank notes received today for redemption, $1,707,317; government receipts from internal revenue, $864,309; customs, $818,051; miscellaneous, $84,198; expenditures, $1,640,000.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 10.—The Basic Chemical Company of New York city was incorporated today with a capital of $310,000. The directors are Clarence D. Simpson and Henry H. Brady, Jr., of Scranton, Pa., and Francis H. Ross of New York city.

The strength and activity of the Tennessee Coal and Iron, Republic Steel and Sloss-Sheffield Steel and Iron Company shares in the stock market today were accompanied by rumors that negotiations were on for a combination between these companies amounting perhaps to a merger.

A Sherlock Holmes story of intense interest in The Sunday Gazette of February 12.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

A new strike is reported near Cole Springs, eight miles southeast of Goldfield, Nev. The discovery has not been sufficiently prospected to determine its extent or average richness, but that it is of very considerable importance has been proved by pannings from rock taken from the open cut at surface. The owners estimate the value of the ore exposed at $200 a ton. Active development work has been started and will be prosecuted without interruption to prove up the ground and get the property in shape for shipping. Very rich float has also been found on a number of adjoining properties.

H. W. Knickerbocker has sold the Old Shoe Fraction, adjoining Campbell's White Horse claim, situated near the center of the Goldfield district. W. B. Boardman of Colorado Springs is the buyer.

The Black Wonder group of three claims and the Eagle claim at Diamondfield, have been purchased by J. Mills Boal, brother of James H. Boal, cashier of the Goldfield Bank and Trust Company. It is understood that Mr. Boal is acting for a Los Angeles syndicate.

A rich strike is reported from Tenderfoot hill, Cripple Creek, where prospectors have uncovered a vein at the surface that shows free gold in quantity. The location of the strike is being kept secret for the present.

A dispatch from Florence, Col., says: A rush of prospectors is taking place from the Arkansas valley towns to the Jenkins park, across the Fremont county line in Custer county, about 28 miles south of Florence, where a big body of ore has been opened on the surface at a depth of five feet by Pueblo men. The principal strike has been made by J. W. Sullivan, who received returns of $400 in gold on a half-ton mill run, or an equivalent of $800 a ton. The vein is narrow, but has been opened up in several different places for a distance of 1,000 feet. H. J. Marvo has also opened up a vein of copper ore that carries 60 per cent copper, or a value of $150 a ton, in the same vicinity. The ground at Jenkins park is covered with several feet of snow, and some difficulty will be experienced in locating the veins. Many believe that the new gold field will, if it proves what it is thought to be, eventually be a duplicate of Cripple Creek, and will again place Custer county in the front rank of mining counties in the state, as it was a number of years ago.

BOSTON, Feb. 10.—The copper market was very much better today. Traders are apparently gaining courage on account of the small amount of liquidation and the increasing amount of public interest. The buying of Massachusetts was especially good, one house taking 1,500 shares at 12, and another house buying 2,000 shares during the day in different size lots. Allouez was also in better demand, about 1,000 shares selling at 20, with 20⅛ bid at the close. The liquidation in Osceola is apparently over and the stock shows good support around the present level. We think that Massachusetts, Michigan, Winona, Mohawk and Copper Range should be bought, and that they will all sell considerably higher.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Spot tin was lower in the English market, being quoted at £130 10s, while futures were unchanged at £129 15s. Locally the market was quiet and without change, spot being quoted at $29 25@29 50. Copper was unchanged at £67 7s 6d, for spot in London, and at £67 13s 9d for futures. Locally general conditions remain unchanged with Lake quoted at $15 50; electrolytic at $15 37½@15 50; casting at $15 00@15 25. Lead advanced to £12 11s 3d in London, but remained unchanged at $4 45@4 60 in the New York market. Spelter was unchanged at £24 17s 6d in London, and at $6 10@6 20 in New York. Iron closed at 51s 3d in Glasgow and 48s 1½d in Middlesborough. Locally prices are unchanged, but the market seems to have a little better tone, a better inquiry being reported, following the recent dullness. No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at $17 50@17 95; No. 2 foundry northern at $17 50; No. 1 foundry southern and No. 1 foundry southern soft at $17 75@18 00.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The market for coffee futures showed continued activity accompanied by general firmness and fair recovery in prices. The opening was steady at an advance of 10@15 points in response to firmer European cables and a continuation of the demand noted toward the close of the previous day. European houses that have been heavy sellers here on the recent decline appeared to be buying during today's session, and while continued full receipts at primary ports seemed to hold out little encouragement for purchasers for long account, there were active supporting orders from Wall street and trade interests. The market was finally steady at a net advance of 15@20 points. Sales were reported of 180,750 bags, including March, 7.90@7.10c; May, 7.30@7.35c; July, 7.50@7.55c; September, 7.75@7.80c; October, 7.75@7.80c; November, 7.90@7.95c; December, 7.95@8.00c. FIRST BLOOD FOR VOTERS' LEAGUE

Court Refuses to Quash and Railways Have 30 Days to Answer.

GASTON ASKS BIG DAMAGES

The Voters' Civic league has won first blood in its contention in the quo warranto proceedings instituted in the name of the district attorney, against the Grant & Liberty Street railroad, the Pittsburgh Railways Company and the Philadelphia Company, to prevent the laying of tracks on Grant boulevard. Common pleas court No. 1 has made an order refusing the motion to quash. No opinion was filed with the order, which merely denies the motion and gives the defendants 30 days, after notice, in which to appeal, answer or demur.

The league made allegations against the manner in which the ordinances granting the franchise were passed by councils.

It is said an appeal will be made to the supreme court to throw the Voters' league out of court, the company declaring the district attorney has no right to bring the suit, but the court by the order denies this contention.

Paul Gaston entered suits against the Tonopah Extension Mining Company, an Arizona corporation, with the principal offices in this city, and the Home Trust Company, which hold the books of the concern, to recover $[illegible]03,600 damages alleged to be due on account of the concern's refusal to transfer stock certificates.

Gaston alleges the company issued 1,000,000 shares of stock at a par value of $1, the shares being represented by certificates made out in the name of the purchaser and showing the number of shares. He avers that he came in possession of 50,000 shares which had been properly assigned by the original purchaser, and the mining company and the Home Trust Company refused to transfer them to his name as provided by its rules on change of ownership. He avers that the shares sold recently in the market at $6.10 and may increase to $10 before the suit is settled; and he claims he is damaged by reason of not having the advantage of holding the proper certificates.

In criminal court A. Apple, Jr., pleaded guilty to a charge of selling adulterated milk. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and costs.

S. A. McCutcheon of Wilkinsburg was acquitted of a charge of selling renovated butter and the jury placed the costs on the prosecutor, E. D. Miller, one of the pure food agents.

William Arrott pleaded no defense to a charge of assault and battery made by J. W. Hanley. Arrott was not sentenced.

Judge Hawkins of orphans' court filed an opinion in the proceedings against the estate of James A. Dewar, deceased, giving to the widow, Clara Dewar, the right to the widow's one-third in the estate. Dewar died while bankrupt proceedings were pending and the claim was set up by creditors that his widow had forfeited her title to exemption by reason of having conveyed by deed property which was later sold by the sheriff. The court holds that the sale of the land in question was not made in the ordinary course of administration, but in avowed hostility to the widow and was divested by sheriff's sale of the third which would have remained had the sale been in bankruptcy, and as she could not prevent the sale she could do no more than make the claim against the proceeds.

Pearl Burnett entered suit against the executors of the estate of Millie Walls, deceased, and had a writ of replevin issued to recover a $300 diamond ring. She alleges that prior to the death of Millie Walls she borrowed $28, giving her the ring as a pledge. She claims she has offered the money to the executors, but they refuse to surrender the ring or accept the money.

In the case of Nicholas Mansour against M. Barakat a rule was issued directing Mansour to show cause why judgment should not be opened or stricken from the record. Barakat gave Mansour notes to secure the payment of $117 borrowed by Lizza Nado. He alleges that the money has been paid to Mansour but the latter by entering up the note and having executions issued is endeavoring to collect the money a second time.

For being ejected from a train H. F. Goldsick has sued the Pennsylvania railroad for $1,000 damages.

A petition in involuntary bankruptcy was filed against Alexander McClelland, a grocer of New Alexandria. His creditors file claims of $918.

A libel in divorce was filed by Charles Dosch against Ellen Bennett Dosch, naming John Doe and others as co-respondents. They were married November 3, 1903, and he says his wife left him on August 27, 1904.

The testimony in the divorce case of Bertha K. Torrence against George Torrence has been filed. They were married August 13, 1902. Mrs. Torrence says her husband never lived with her after their marriage.

Executions issued: Mortgage Banking Company, assignee, vs. Emanuel and Katie Cox, $232 62; same vs. Anthony D. Gawhan, $47 53; Mary Apel, assignee, vs. John W. MASONS VISITED OHIO.

Dallas Lodge, F. & A. M., Went to Youngstown on Invitations of Western Star Lodge.

Dallas lodge No. 508, F. and A. M., on invitation of the Western Star lodge of Youngstown, made a special visit to the Youngstown Masonic temple Thursday evening to witness the work. Over 150 members of Dallas lodge and of other Pittsburgh lodges occupied a special train on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie road, leaving Pittsburgh at 6 p. m. and arriving at Youngstown in time to take part in the work. A number of Masons from other states were also present. Dallas members were the guests of honor on the occasion, and all the officers, including William E. Wilson, Oliver G. Ferguson, W. B. Tipton, Robert H. McCreery and Charles S. Lindsay were present.

After the regular session of the lodge the members and their guests assembled in the banquet hall, where a feast was spread and toasts responded to. Among the speakers from Dallas were Master W. E. Wilson and Past Masters Terry and Elphinstone, while a number of members of Western Star lodge gave short talks on Masonry and its ancient forms. The Pittsburgh speakers congratulated Western Star on its excellent work and the efficient manner in which the lodge was officered, thanked the lodge for the invitation and pleasure the occasion had afforded all who attended, and in turn extended the brethren an invitation to visit Dallas, where they would always be made welcome.

JEFF DAVIS' BODY GUARD SAYS MILES IS RIGHT

J. C. Miller of Springdale Tells How Confederate President Was Treated in Prison.

J. C. Miller of Springdale agrees with Gen. Miles that Jefferson Davis was well treated while a prisoner. Mr. Miller, in speaking of the controversy, said yesterday:

> Many of the southern papers have spoken in the most virulent manner regarding the treatment extended to Mr. Davis by Gen. Miles. Now, I wish to state that so far as I recollect—and I think I was in a position to know, for I was detailed as Mr. Davis' body guard in April and was with him in his room in Fortress Monroe day and night for more than two months—I can truthfully say that every kindly consideration that was possible was extended to him. His room was clean, healthful and well ventilated and every morning two guards were detailed to clean up and air his room, make his bed and put the room in order.
>
> His menu was good. I often wished as I passed his meals to him that I had as good rations. He had books and such literature as he desired and was even furnished with his own choice of tobacco, which he smoked in his large meerchaum pipe; his bed was soft and comfortable, for he would sleep by the hour and snore as loud as anyone.
>
> The best evidence that the articles in the southern papers are written without knowledge and only for effect is the fact that Mr. Davis himself never entered a complaint about his treatment, and this shows that he was satisfied and content with the treatment accorded him while a prisoner. When we recollect the "army of shadows" that were sent north from Andersonville, Libby and Belle Isle, after the exchange of prisoners, it comes with a poor grace from the southern press to initiate a discussion of ill-treatment of prisoners of war.
>
> Any soldier, either rank or file, who, as a prisoner of war, received half as kind and indulgent treatment as was extended to Mr. Davis wold feel it his duty to speak in terms of the highest commendation of his lot. The letter of Gen. Miles relative to his conduct while in charge of Mr. Davis is quite sufficient to vindicate himself in the eyes of all intelligent, reasonable and unprejudiced people.

MR. ROOSEVELT'S DRIVER AND HORSE ARE HURT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—As one of the president's carriages was being driven from the White House to the stables today an automobile cut across ahead of the team. The horses ran on the sidewalk, striking an iron fence. The carriage was upset and the driver, Julius Wheeler, thrown to the ground, receiving a severe bruise on the right hip. The horse that struck the fence was thrown and a gash cut in its breast. The injury is not serious.

SOUVENIR OF ELECTION GIVEN TO THE PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Senator Frye, president pro. tem. of the senate, who presided over the two branches of congress when the official count of the electoral votes was made, called at the executive offices today and delivered to Secretary Loeb one of the credential boxes which had contained the official returns, to be presented to the president. This will be retained by the president as a souvenir of his election. The box is made of mahogany and ornamented with inlay work.

WAS NEAR DEATH.

Allegheny Man Knocked from Wagon Is Rolled Along Street.

Albert Hendricks, a driver, had a miraculous escape from death yesterday morning in Federal street, Allegheny. Near the corner of Hemlock street a Perrysville avenue car struck Hendricks' wagon and the man was thrown under the car. Motorman Dunn did not notice this, and as the collision was not a violent one he did not stop the car. Hendricks was rolled along in front of the car for half a block or more before people in the street attracted the notice of the motorman.

When Hendricks was picked up he was unconscious. None of his bones was broken, and so far as could be learned none of his injuries is of a serious nature. That the man was not crushed under the wheels is due to the fact that he is very large, and for this reason it was impossible for his body to get entirely under the fender.

Wedding Trip Is Resumed.

H. G. Norman, who was arrested Thursday night on information received from the police at Philadelphia, was released yesterday. The charge was preferred by the managers of the Hotel Walton, and when the Philadelphia detective arrived yesterday Norman settled the costs of the case and was released. Norman, who was on his wedding trip, gave the hotel managers a check which proved to be worthless.

FRICTION IN THE BUILDERS' LEAGUE

Master Mantel and Tile Dealers' Association Expelled from the Consolidated Body.

DETRICH LEAVES ASSOCIATION

Surprising developments were brought to light yesterday in the fight between the Builders' Exchange league and the organized workmen, over what the workmen term the "open shop" agreement. It was announced the Master Mantel and Tile Dealers' association has been expelled from the league, which in turn expelled E. J. Detrich because he was the only member who refused to sign a closed shop agreement.

When the league adopted the uniform working rules with instructions that each affiliated association incorporate them into their agreements with the trade unions, all members agreed to abide by them. Instead all the members of the Master Mantel and Tile association signed the workmen's agreement, which did not include the uniform rules, with the exception of Detrich. T. J. Williams, business agent of the tile layers' union, went to give him a chance to sign the agreement. This he refused. The next day his workmen were called out and they still refuse to work for him.

There is also friction between the league and the Master Painters' association. Last fall the labor unions and the master painters agreed upon a scale. The terms were practically the same as last year. In the agreement a clause read that the master painters agreed to employ union men while the union was able to furnish competent skilled workmen. It did not, however, contain the uniform working rules of the league, and for that reason the league would not indorse the agreement and recommended that a new one be made with the unions. This the master painters did not do, claiming that it would be a breach of honor to cancel the agreement already made.

The trade unions have been assured the support of international associations. Frank Buchanan, president of the Bridge and Structural Iron workers, and also president of the Structural Trades' alliance, who arrived in Pittsburgh Thursday evening, gave out a statement defining his attitude toward the present fight. He said:

> There are cities where employer and trades unionists are leagued together in an unholy alliance to crush competition. The unions are pledged to work for nobody outside the Employers' union, and will not work on material brought in from outside. This I consider contrary to the best interests of the people. Destruction is the only logical definition of the "open shop." I am one of the many in the labor ranks strongly in favor of the sympathy movement. The sympathy strike will hold some of them in line.
>
> There are a number of large contractors who are members of the Pittsburgh league who do no work all over the country. Our organization is in a position to retaliate, and if our members are not permitted to work for these contractors in Pittsburgh under the same conditions that have been readily accepted by the Erectors' association we will not permit our members to work for those contractors in any part of the country.

The latter assertion of Mr. Buchanan means that all work will be stopped where the contractor is affiliated with the Pittsburgh league.

MISSISSIPPI GOVERNOR SNUBS INAUGURATION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Gov. Vardaman of Mississippi has written to the inaugural committee indicating that he will have nothing to do with the inauguration, and will not send a delegation of high school students or any other delegation to participate in the inauguration. The letter was addressed to L. O. C. Lamar of this city, a former Mississippian, in response to an invitation to send a delegation of representative high school students.

ARBITRATION TREATIES ARE TO BE WITHDRAWN

Committee's Action Causes a Break Between President and Senate.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—There is a very serious breach between the administration and the senate over the arbitration treaties which the senate seems determined to amend and kill. True to his word, President Roosevelt will withdraw the treaties with Great Britain, Germany, Italy, France, Switzerland and Norway and Sweden from the senate if that body adopts the amendment made in them by the committee on foreign relations, or any other amendment. This decision was reached finally this afternoon at a conference at the White House, attended by the president, Secretary Hay, Secretary Taft and Attorney General Moody. This step is necessary to save the United States the humiliation of having other countries reject our treaties.

The treaties were under discussion for more than two hours today, in the executive session of the senate. The opposition developed was not from those who fought the treaties before they were amended by the senate committee on foreign relations so as to provide that each claim to be arbitrated must be agreed on by special "treaty." This amendment satisfied southern senators, who had been opposed to the treaties on the ground that they might be used for the arbitration of foreign claims against states on account of outstanding bonds.

The desire of the president and the state department for the ratification of the treaties was discussed by Senator Cullom, who was supported by Senators Lodge, Spooner and others. Nearly every member of the foreign relations committee supported the treaties, and by agreement they will be taken up tomorrow.

WOULD PLACE THE CANAL IN HANDS OF PRESIDENT

Bill to Abolish the Panama Commission Is Discussed in the House of Representatives.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—After maintaining its record for the rapid disposition of private pension bills, 433 being passed in an hour and a half, the house today considered for a short while the bill providing a government for the Panama canal zone. In explaining the measure Mr. Mann of Illinois stated that it was not intended as a reflection on the present commission or its methods, but that it was necessary to separate the engineering problems from the administrative problems in constructing the canal. The bill, he said, left to the president authority to continue any of the present commissioners as consulting engineers.

In criticising the canal bill, Mr. Adamson of Georgia said that congress was not ready to enact legislation, because it was not known what would be done or what was necessary. He thought it unnecessary to talk about theories of governing the canal until certain engineering questions had been settled. The measure was still under consideration when the house adjourned.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Postmaster General Wynne has decided to invite bids for carrying the mails from San Francisco to the island of Tahiti, and the contract to be entered into will provide that the steamers used for the service must conform in construction to plans approved by the navy department so that they may be taken by the United States as cruisers in case of war.

WABASH ROUTE TO RIVER CLEAR

Real Estate Not Secured, Lying Between Penn and Duquesne, Bought for $160,000.

TO MODERNIZE OLD OFFICES

Two important developments concerning railroad real estate came to light yesterday. One is the conclusion by the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal railroad of the purchase of the last properties that lay between its passenger station at Liberty avenue and Ferry street and the Allegheny river at Duquesne way and Fourth street. This gives the Wabash access to its proposed bridge across the Allegheny and to its proposed line up Duquesne way. The second development is the decision of the Pennsylvania Company to turn its office building at Tenth and Penn into a modern office structure.

The Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal Railroad Company yesterday purchased the property of the Susan Holmes estate in the Fourth ward. The purchase was effected through the Commonwealth Real Estate Company and the price was $160,000. The property is in two adjoining parcels. One has a frontage of 30 feet at No. 407 Penn avenue and extends back 420 feet with the same width to Duquesne way. On the front of the lot is a three-story brick building which was lately occupied by the Macbeth-Evans Glass Company and a warehouse stands on the Duquesne way end.

The other parcel of property faces 100 feet in Fourth street about midway between Penn avenue and Duquesne way and has a depth of 60 feet, extending back to the 30-foot strip before mentioned. The Fourth street frontage is improved with six three-story brick houses. The entire two plots contain nearly 19,000 square feet which makes the purchase price less than $8.50 a square foot.

This purchase gives the Wabash a clear right of way from its tracks at Fourth avenue and Redoubt alley to Duquesne way, as the company secured the property necessary between Liberty and Penn avenues two years ago. It also shows that the Wabash is making active preparations to get into Allegheny at an early date. The purchase of the Carlin plot across the Allegheny river from the ground bought yesterday, which was secured recently for $150,000, was made to afford the railroad an approach to the proposed bridge over the river. Yesterday's deal takes out of the market permanently one of the most desirable blocks of property in the downtown section, for there are very few similar plots to be secured at any price.

The Pennsylvania Company has decided to make over its building at Penn avenue and Tenth street for a modern office home. New elevators, new plumbing, new floors and partitions and modern office conveniences will be installed at a cost of at least $15,000. The building will be ready for tenants by April 1 and will be handled by Liggett & Lennox. This was the original office building of the Pennsy in Pittsburgh and formerly housed all its highest officials. For a year or more the upper floors have been occupied by the Pittsburgh Dental college and the first floor by the Pittsburgh Forge and Iron Company. The college will vacate, but the iron company will have the first floor of the remodeled building.

Millions Know

That Liquozone Does What Medicine Cannot Do. A 50c Bottle Free.

There are at least three million homes in America which know from experience the value of Liquozone. Some of those homes use it simply to keep well, as we do. But tens of thousands have lives that were saved by it.

Yet some remain sick with a germ disease while all of those millions know that Liquozone cures. Some still cling to drugs for what drugs never can do. They are wronging themselves. Their own friends—their own neighbors—can tell them the way to get well.

We ask those sick ones to write us. We will buy for each one the first bottle of Liquozone, and pay the druggist ourselves for it. Each is welcome to try it at our expense, then let the results decide about using it afterwards.

Don't try to kill inside germs with drugs, for you cannot. Don't cling blindly to old methods of treatment, used before germs were discovered. Let us prove what this new way means to you.

Not Medicine.

Liquozone is not made, like medicine, by compounding acids and drugs; nor is there any alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas, made in large part from the best oxygen producers. The process of making takes 14 days, and requires immense apparatus. At the end of two weeks we get one cubic inch of Liquozone for each 1,250 cubic inches of gas used. The attainment of this product has, for more than twenty years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research.

The main result is, to get into a liquid, and thus into the blood, a powerful, yet harmless germicide. And the product is so helpful—so good for you under any condition—that even a well person feels its instant benefit.

This is the product which in the past two years has sprung into world-wide use in the treatment of germ diseases. It is now used by the sick of nine nations; by physicians and hospitals everywhere. It is daily used in millions of homes in America.

We Paid $100,000

For the American rights to Liquozone, and the rights in other countries have sold for proportionate sums. We mention this fact to indicate the value of Liquozone—the value to you. Men have never before paid such a price for any discovery used in the cure of sickness.

We need not tell you that we proved Liquozone well before buying it. For years it was tested through physicians and hospitals, in this country and others. It was employed in every stage of every germ disease; in all the most difficult cases obtainable. With thousands of sick ones, considered incurable, we proved that it did what medicine could not do. Then, and then only, did we pay the price.

Since then we have spent nearly $2,000,000 to make Liquozone known. We have bought the first bottle and given it free to every sick one we learned of. These people told others, and the others told others. The result is that Liquozone is now more widely employed than any medicine ever was. And no one can doubt that it is doing more for sick humanity than all the drugs in use combined.

Kills Inside Germs.

The greatest value of Liquozone lies in the fact that it kills germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. And no man knows another way to do it. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. For that reason, medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease.

Liquozone is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. Yet it is not only harmless but of wonderful benefit—better than anything else in the world for you. No one is so well that he cannot be helped by it.

The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquozone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetal matter. To the human body Liquozone is exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying—the most needful, the most helpful thing possible. But to germs it is certain destruction; and these facts are true of nothing else in existence.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases; all due to germs or to the poisons which germs create. These are the diseases to which medicine does not apply, for drugs cannot kill inside germs.

All that medicine can do for these troubles is to act as a tonic, aiding Nature to overcome the germs. But those results are indirect and uncertain, depending on the patient's condition. A cure is always doubtful when drugs are used, and some of these diseases medicine never cures.

Liquozone alone can destroy the cause of these troubles. It goes wherever the blood goes, so that no germ can escape it. The results are almost inevitable. Diseases which have resisted medicine for years yield at once to Liquozone. "Incurable" diseases are cured by it. In any stage of any disease in this list the results are so certain that we will gladly send to any patient who asks it an absolute guaranty.
